In Rail, Melbourne Metro Trains and the prestigious Sydney and Melbourne Metro CBD locations offer premium impact and large audience volumes, connecting with millions of passenger journeys each week in a long dwell, pedestrian environment, driving high engagement during their commute.

Retail

oOh! operates Australia's largest reaching shopping centre advertising network, offering a broad portfolio across all centre types and influencing 46c in every dollar spent in shopping centres throughout Australia. Airport advertising is a strategic way to engage with Australia's affluent business audience at scale and access budgets outside of broadcast OOH targeting objectives. The network comprises of multiple journey stage digital opportunities across 5 capital cities and Canberra, in terminals, Qantas Club, Business and Chairmans lounges, plus on Qantas Inflight Entertainment, including both Wi-Fi and TVC opportunities onboard the aircraft.

Overview

In a challenging advertising market, oOh!media (oOh!) entered 2025 carrying strong momentum, with the Out of Home (OOH) segment strengthening its position as the best performing format and with further tailwinds expected.

This momentum continued into the first half, with double-digit revenue growth and margin expansion demonstrating disciplined operational focus and execution from the business.

In H2, macroeconomic conditions slowed and advertising market activity became more challenging.

oOh! delivered total revenue growth of 9% YoY to $691 million for CY25, with Adjusted Underlying EBITDA increasing by 8% to $139.1 million and Adjusted Underlying NPAT up 10% to $64.4 million.

Statutory NPAT of $22.7 million was down 48%, due largely to a non-cash impairment recognised following the non-renewal of the Company's contract with Auckland Transport.

A detailed explanation of the financial results is contained within the Operating and Financial Review.

Capital management and dividend

oOh!'s financial position remains sound, enabling the Company to invest for profitable growth while delivering returns to shareholders.

Net debt as at 31 December 2025 was $112.8 million, compared to $108.3 million at the prior corresponding period, and gearing was 0.8 times, remaining comfortably within the Board's target range.

Reflecting the Company's financial position and the Board's confidence in the outlook for oOh!, the Board was pleased to declare a final dividend of 4.0 cents per share, fully franked, equating to a full year dividend payout ratio of 52% of adjusted net profit CY 2025 which is in line with the Company's dividend policy of 40-60% of adjusted net profit.

Leadership transition

On 29 April 2025, oOh! announced that Cathy O'Connor had advised the Board of her intention to step down in the second half of CY25, after more than four years leading the Company.

After a comprehensive internal and external search, the Board announced the appointment of James Taylor as Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer on 12 August 2025. James joined oOh! from Special Broadcasting Service (SBS), Australia's multicultural and multilingual public broadcaster, where he was Managing Director since 2018, having previously served as Chief Financial Officer for more than five years.

James brings a strong track record of strategic and operational execution and deep industry relationships from over 25 years in the media industry. We are excited about the clarity, energy and ambition that James has brought to oOh! since formally commencing in the role on 8 December 2025.

The Board remains confident in the long-term structural growth opportunity in the OOH market and in the strategic direction to maximise oOh!'s participation in this.

Our focus remains on leveraging the scale, reach and diversity of our unparalleled network to deliver profitable market share growth and enhance long-term earnings quality. We are confident of achieving this under James' leadership.

Board update

In February 2025, we announced the retirement of Andrew Stevens as a Non-Executive Director. Andrew was a director of oOh! since 2020 and made a significant contribution to the Company particularly in relation to financial, technology and ESG matters. We thank Andrew for his service to oOh! and our shareholders.

The Board comprises six directors who bring a diverse range of skills, experience and perspectives that support effective oversight and governance of the Company.

I would like to acknowledge and thank my fellow directors for their commitment, insights and collaboration throughout the year.

Sustainability

Our company's purpose, Making Public Spaces Better and Brands Unmissable, clearly articulates the role we play at the intersection of media, infrastructure and community.

It reflects our responsibility to deliver positive outcomes not only for advertisers and shareholders, but also for the cities, environments and people our network serves.

In 2025, the business continued to advance a range of initiatives focused on creating impact where it matters most: for the planet, for our people, and for better business outcomes.

Full details of our sustainability efforts can be found in the Sustainability Report section of this Annual Report.

Summary and conclusion

oOh!'s performance in 2025 reflects the ongoing strength of the OOH sector and the Company's ability to execute with discipline and consistency.

With a clear strategic direction, a strong leadership team, and robust balance sheet, oOh! is well positioned to capitalise on structural growth opportunities by delivering innovative solutions for our clients.

I would like to thank our people for their dedication and focus throughout the year, and our shareholders for their continued support and confidence in oOh!

04 CEO's Report

CEO's Report

Introduction

It is a privilege to join oOh!media (oOh!) and lead a business that plays an integral part of Australia's media and urban landscape.

Out of Home (OOH) is a medium I have long admired for its unique ability to combine creativity, impact, physicality and presence. It elevates brands in ways no other channel can, and it is increasingly the first platform marketers turn to. This momentum is reflected in OOH's record 16.4% share of agency media spend in CY25, reinforcing its position as the best performing channel in Australian media.

Against this backdrop, and with oOh!'s market-leading, multi-format portfolio of more than 30,000 assets reaching 98% of metropolitan Australians each week, the opportunity to lead oOh! was compelling.

Since joining oOh! in December 2025, my early observations have only strengthened my conviction in the quality of the business. oOh! is a tremendous organisation, underpinned by deep industry expertise, strong client relationships and a world-class network, with significant scale and reach. It is supported by a capable, creative and highly engaged team. Across the organisation, there is a clear ambition to continually improve, leverage our network's unique strengths, and ultimately uphold the responsibility that comes with market leadership in delivering value for clients and investors.

Throughout my career, I have focused on driving holistic business improvement through disciplined execution, and I have joined oOh! with the same mindset. My priority is to execute our strategy with pace and clarity, ensuring the market fully understands the distinctiveness and scale of oOh!'s offering, and in turn deliver sustainable growth for our shareholders.

Financial results

In CY25, oOh! delivered revenue growth of 9% on the prior year to $691 million, driven by improved go-to-market execution across the business.

Record revenue and underlying results in the first half was followed by a more challenging second half which saw pressure on advertising budgets, subdued consumer spending and the non renewal of the Auckland Transport contract.

Significant contract wins including Transurban's Melbourne and Brisbane motorway assets further cemented oOh!'s market leadership position this year.

Having provided a trading update in November 2025, oOh! delivered on its updated CY25 guidance for revenue, gross margin, opex and capex and adjusted EBITDA.

James Taylor
Managing Director and CEO

Billboards and Street & Rail remained core growth drivers, with revenue increasing by 10% and 11% respectively. Street & Rail growth was underpinned by the exceptional performance of Sydney Metro and the largely complete roll out of the Woollahra and Waverley Council assets. Airports delivered very strong growth of 29%, reflecting a continued recovery and a return to pre COVID revenue levels. Office & Study declined 7%, due to lower advertiser demand in the absence of MOVE 2.0 activity. Retail finished 6% lower year on year, driven by a competitive market environment.

Despite lower-than-expected revenue growth, strong contract discipline resulted in adjusted gross profit increasing 9% to $298.8 million. The adjusted gross margin of 43.2% was impacted by higher fixed rent costs, increased agency incentives and adverse channel mix.

Underlying operating expenditure increased 3%, below the rate of inflation, primarily reflecting performance linked incentives, CPI impacts and establishment costs associated with reo. These cost increases were partially offset by a cost out program implemented earlier in the year.

Adjusted underlying EBITDA for the year was $139.1 million, representing strong growth of 8%. Adjusted NPAT increased 10% to $64.4 million. After accounting for the post-tax $28.6 million impairment relating to the New Zealand business following the loss of the Auckland Transport contract, the Company reported a statutory net profit of $16.9 million for the year.

Further information on the Company's financial performance is contained in the Operating and Financial Review.

Strategy

oOh! has an established strategy that is designed to leverage its strengths to deliver sustainable value for clients and shareholders.

I believe the business has a strong foundation on which to build and I see significant opportunity to improve performance and execution. This may involve evolving elements of the strategy to suit the evolving market environment in which we operate.

In the near-term, my priority is ensuring we deliver with pace, consistency and discipline across the business. I look forward to providing a more fulsome strategy update later in the year.

To support this, we have begun an initial exploratory review of our operating model, focused on how the business moves from winning bids through to building, activating, operating and maintaining assets. Early observations point to opportunities to redesign the operating model to improve efficiency across this end-to-end process, reduce costs and accelerate revenue realisation.

The first phase of this work is focused on low-risk initiatives that can be implemented relatively quickly and are expected to be cost neutral in the first year.

The second phase will address more complex initiatives that require longer implementation but are expected to deliver material cost savings in year two and onwards.

CY26 outlook

Media revenue for Q1 is currently pacing at +7% for Australia, offset by weaker performance in NZ due to the loss of Auckland Transport resulting in +3% for the Group.

OOH is expected to continue taking revenue share from other media channels. Full year CY26 operating costs are expected to be broadly flat with CY25, reflecting continued investment to support growth while maintaining disciplined cost control.

CY26 capex is estimated to be between $55 million and $65 million, funded by new advertising assets and subject to development approvals.

Gearing will remain within the Group's target range, below 1.0x adjusted underlying EBITDA, maintaining balance sheet flexibility.

Summary

In CY25, oOh!'s performance reflected the continued growth and resilience of the OOH sector. Despite more challenging market conditions in the second half, the business delivered strong full year revenue and underlying earnings growth.

We enter the next phase with a high-quality portfolio of assets, a clear and focused strategy, and a team deeply committed to delivering for clients, partners, and shareholders.

oOh! is well positioned to leverage favourable market conditions and long-term audience growth, as OOH continues to expand its share of the total media mix.

I would like to thank the Board for its confidence in appointing me to the role and for their guidance and support since joining, as well as the entire oOh! team for their dedication and commitment.

I am focused on executing our strategy with discipline and pace, to deliver sustainable growth and long-term value for our shareholders.

Have you tried it?
Now you can.

Operating and Financial Review

Operating and Financial Review

oOh! delivers solid earnings in CY25 amid challenging second half advertising market.

In the year ended 31 December 2025 (CY25), Out of Home (OOH) once again outperformed the broader media sector. Industry data from the Outdoor Media Association (OMA) indicated OOH revenue grew 11% in CY25, while Standard Media Index (SMI) reported a record 16.4% of agency spend.

oOh! delivered a resilient first half with record revenue and underlying results, demonstrating disciplined operational focus and improved go-to-market execution. This was followed by a more challenging second half where macroeconomic conditions slowed and subdued consumer spending saw greater pressure on advertising budgets, in addition to the impact of the non-renewal of the Auckland Transport contract.

The Group delivered full year revenue of $691.4 million, up 9% on the prior year (CY24: $635.6 million).

oOh!'s strong contract discipline translated into an adjusted gross profit of $298.8 million, 5% up on the prior year. Adjusted gross margin declined by 1.5 ppts to 43.2% due to higher fixed rent costs, increased agency incentives and adverse channel mix.

Operating expenditure increased 3%, below the rate of inflation, on the prior year to $149.2 million, an increase of $4.8 million on a reported basis. The increase was primarily due to performance linked incentives, CPI impacts and establishment costs associated with reo.

Adjusted underlying EBITDA (before non-operating items) increased 8% on the prior year to $139.1 million. There were no non-operating items in the current year at the EBITDA level.

Adjusted underlying EBITDA margin decreased by 0.1 ppts to 20.1% from 20.3% in CY24. Reported EBITDA increased by 14% to $328.0 million.

The group impaired its New Zealand business by $30 million following the non-renewal of the Auckland Transport contract. Net finance costs on an adjusted basis were down $1.1 million following a debt refinancing restructure effective from 1 July 2025 with lower facility costs.

Adjusted underlying NPAT increased 7% to $63.0 million. The effective tax rate in CY25 was 53% due to the $25m goodwill component of the impairment outlined above not being tax effected. Excluding this the underlying effective tax rate was 32%. Adjusted earnings per share increased 0.8 cents per share to 11.7 cents (CY24: 10.9 cps).

The Group reported a 54% decrease in statutory NPAT to $16.9 million for CY25, accounting for the post-tax $28.6 million impairment of the New Zealand CGU and historic amortisation of acquired intangibles that do not require replacement.

Disciplined cost management to support growth

During CY25, oOh! delivered meaningful improvements in its cost base, building on the actions announced in late CY24 to simplify operations and drive performance. The Group achieved a total of $15 million in cost savings during the period, comprising of $10 million of operating expenditure reductions and $5 million in non-rent COGs. The New Zealand cost base was also reset during the period following the Auckland Transport outcome.

Risk Management

Governance

The Company pro-actively manages risks such as strategic risk, operational risk, governance and compliance risk and financial risk. The Board has mechanisms in place to ensure management's objectives and activities are consistent with risk management direction by the Board including governance structures requiring Board approval of:

- the Group's strategic plan and operational objectives;
- the Group's policies regarding governance, conduct and other risks;
- the Group's annual financial forecasts and operating budgets;
- all contracts and agreements which exceed the level of delegation to management in the Delegated Authority Policy approved by the Board; and
- all project developments which exceed the level of delegation to management in the Delegated Authority Policy approved by the Board.

Key Risks

The Company considers the following as being the most relevant risks to the business achieving its strategic, operational and financial targets:

Business Element	Description of risk and the Company's mitigation
External economic conditions	The Company operates in Australia and New Zealand. Several advertiser customers are global organisations whose media expenditure decisions can be affected by economic conditions in other jurisdictions. A general disruption to or downturn in macroeconomic factors such as consumer confidence, or the media industry specifically, may reduce revenues. This may have a significant impact on operating profit as a large proportion of the Company's costs have a fixed component. The Company positions its operations to balance the opportunity of delivering outcomes for investors from stronger economic conditions as well as mitigating the impact of economic downturns given the cyclical nature of the media market. The Company maintains a portfolio of assets which is diversified across several Out of Home segments and across central business district, transport, metropolitan (including suburban) and regional areas in Australia and New Zealand. A significant proportion of arrangements with commercial partners include rent that varies with revenue in a period. The Company maintains debt financing facilities with liquidity headroom above expected operational needs.
Shifting audience patterns	Out of Home audiences were impacted by mandatory stay at home orders / restricted movement orders by governments in Australia and New Zealand during 2020 and 2021 as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. This has led to an increase in working from home versus traveling to the office, supported by advancements in virtual meeting technology. Given the concentration of assets in CBD areas, particularly in office, an elongation of working from home patterns adversely impacted Out of Home audiences and revenues in the office environment. Another pandemic that prompts a government response whereby Out of Home audience movements are restricted, may reduce revenue for the duration of the response. The Company's diversity of its assets into suburban and regional areas is a partial mitigant to this risk.
Meeting the evolving needs of advertisers	Out of Home advertising continues to grow its overall share of total advertising spend, benefiting from disruption impacting traditional media, particularly free-to-air television and terrestrial radio. The OOH sector continues to invest to meet changing advertiser needs, including in new and creative ways to drive audience engagement such as 3D anamorphic and dynamic time or temperature campaign capabilities. For the sector and for oOh!media, growth will be influenced by the ability to continue to adapt to a changing media landscape, including evolving customer preferences and competitive and legislative changes. The Board oversees key changes in the media landscape and the appropriateness of management's response to such changes. oOh!media has developed a diversified portfolio to mitigate this risk, with diversity and scale across a number of different environments that deliver return on investment for advertisers. oOh!media has also invested in audience data, verification, scalable systems and operating models to manage this risk into the future, and continues to have an active role in the relevant industry bodies to drive continued OOH share of total advertising spend.
Business partners	oOh!media is dependent on concession contracts with commercial partners to maintain and manage its lease and licence portfolio, media agencies to represent this portfolio to their advertiser clients, and customers who desire the portfolio to advertise their goods and services. Many concession contracts require oOh!media to participate in competitive processes ahead of or at each renewal. Loss or weakening of relationships with media agencies, a change in the size or structure of the media agency market, or loss of relationships with key customers could impact the Group's future operating and business performance. oOh!media has developed a diversified portfolio of relationships with numerous individual commercial partners and with different contract maturity dates to mitigate the impact of losing individual concession contracts, and has invested in data and insights to give agencies and customers more focus and reach for their desired audience using oOh!media's unique portfolio.

Business ElementDescription of risk and the Company's mitigation

Business Continuity	oOh!media's ability to continue normal business operations may be adversely affected by a range of external and internal risks, including but not limited to: inability of employees to access key technology operating systems, access by employees to maintain, post and clean physical advertising assets across Australia and New Zealand, and severe widespread reductions in audiences for oOh!media's advertising assets across Australia and New Zealand resulting in a significant short term loss of revenue, as occurred in CY20 and CY21 due to COVID-19 pandemic government restrictions on public movement. oOh!media has deployed resources and strategies to mitigate specific risks: Work, health, safety and environmental (WHSE), IT and Cyber Security, Regulatory and Governance, all of which could give rise to a Business Continuity risk – refer to specific risk sections in this report. The Audit, Risk & Compliance Committee of the Board annually reviews oOh!media's Business Continuity plans. The Company's advertising assets are diversified across numerous environments (road, airports, street furniture, shopping centres, rail), geographically diverse locations across Australia and New Zealand and the majority of oOh!media's revenues are from national advertisers who use multiple audience environments. As a result, oOh!media has limited business continuity concentration risk for localised advertising assets. Business continuity risk could arise as a result of widespread sustained impact to assets and audiences. The Company maintains debt financing facilities with liquidity headroom above expected operational needs, operates with rent structures which include a significant element of rent which varies with revenue and in certain key commercial arrangements fixed rent relief in the event of a pandemic.
Artificial Intelligence (AI)	oOh!media operates in a dynamic media landscape where the accelerated adoption of AI by competitors in the broader media market presents a strategic risk. Failure to sustainably integrate AI into core business processes may result in reduced operational efficiency compared to investor expectations, diminished audience targeting capabilities, and erosion of both the sector's share and oOh!media's share of the market. As advertisers increasingly seek data-driven solutions and personalised engagement, oOh!media's ability to remain competitive depends on ongoing investment in AI-enabled systems and talent. The Board oversees management's approach to AI adoption, ensuring alignment with strategic objectives and robust governance to mitigate the risk of falling behind industry peers while protecting against regulatory and reputational risks.
Acquisitions, new businesses, and integration	Acquisitions or new businesses (such as reo) may not deliver projected benefits or value, and integrations may not be successful, resulting in interruptions to the achievement of business strategy. oOh!media has deep experience managing business integrations and where appropriate, appoints full time project managers to assist with the management and delivery of integration programs. As required, oOh!media regularly reports against the performance of the integration and the new businesses to the Board.

Regulatory & GovernanceDescription of risk and the Company's mitigation

Regulatory	The Group operates in an industry which is subject to specific regulatory risk, planning development regulations for deployment of the Group's assets and regulatory changes with respect to advertising content on the Group's assets. oOh!media engages proactively with regulatory and industry bodies regarding development of regulation and in ensuring compliance by the Group's activities.
Governance	The Group recognises stakeholder expectations regarding governance for an enterprise of its scale and operating as a publicly listed entity. A significant failure to meet expected standards of governance would impact the reputation and business outcomes for the Group. oOh!media engages professional in-house and where required, external, governance experts to assist its corporate, finance, legal and operations functions to provide advice and support, and to manage and review governance processes and systems.
ESG	Expectations from advertisers, governments, landlords, employees, shareholders and other stakeholders with regards to the Company's ESG profile continue to evolve. The Company formally established an ESG function in 2022 and enhances the in-house capabilities through specialist consulting services where appropriate.

IT & CybersecurityDescription of risk and the Company's mitigation*IT security & resilience

Failure to appropriately address security risks around external threats to the digital network, IT systems and data (including personal information) could result in system suspension, loss of control or failure, the potential loss of intellectual property or a personal information data breach. oOh!media has developed a Cyber Security Strategy and processes. Activities in relation to managing Cyber Security risk are overseen by a Cyber Security Steering Committee comprising of executives leading the operational functions in addition to the IT executive leadership. Cyber risk management activities are reported regularly to the Board and its Committees, including the Transformation & Technology Committee. The business does not acquire nor retain private information of individuals other than employees.

People & CapabilityDescription of risk and the Company's mitigation*WHSE

Work, health, safety and environmental (WHSE) risks could occur causing physical injury or death to employees or others, psychosocial harm to employees, damage to property or the environment, damage to reputation and involve regulatory breach. oOh!media has a dedicated Wellbeing, Safety and Environment function, complemented by a management system that is rigorously enforced. This team conducts quality assurance on providers to ensure compliance with policies, induction, licensing requirements, insurance and WHS policies. oOh!media has a Group-wide induction and new site training program for workplace, health and emergency measures and conducts third party independent audits of its work, health & safety and environmental systems to identify any areas for continuous improvement. Strategy and processes, policies and activities in relation to managing WHSE are overseen by a WHSE Steering Committee comprising of executives leading operational functions across the Group. WHSE risk management activities and all incidents are reported to and considered regularly by the Board.

Culture, employee retention & succession

The Company has a vibrant and professional culture which embraces colleagues as individuals as well as contributors. This culture has enabled the Company to grow to be the largest Out of Home operator in Australia and New Zealand. Business structure and employee capability may not continue to evolve to meet the growing changes and complexity in the products, market, agencies and emerging digital environment. This failure may negatively impact the ongoing relevance and performance of oOh!media within the market. As the business evolves, structure, culture and capability is carefully assessed to ensure it aligns to the business strategy and has the agility to adapt to new favourable opportunities. oOh!media has Group-wide onboarding and subsequent structured and on the job learning programs, an informal mentoring program, and recognition programs beyond remuneration. The Talent & Culture Committee of the Board works closely with the CEO and Chief People & Culture Officer on the design and implementation of the Company's culture programs, reviewing results and the Company's response and action to regular culture surveys.

Employee retention and succession planning enables the Group's consistent performance and delivery of its strategy and competitive success. Significant loss of employees and particular capabilities over a short period could impact the Company's ability to operate effectively or achieve its revenue targets. oOh!media undertakes short-term and long-term succession and organisational planning for key roles. Retention and succession activities and outcomes are regularly reviewed by the Board.

The Board is confident that its composition, both during 2025 and following the new CEO transition in 2026, provides a strong and appropriate combination of skills, experience, perspectives and gender diversity. The Board has considered the non-audit services provided during the year by the auditor, and, in accordance with the advice received from the Audit, Risk & Compliance Committee, is satisfied that the provision of those non-audit services during the year by the auditor is compatible with, and did not compromise, the auditor independence requirement of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) for the following reasons:

- all non-audit services are subject to corporate governance procedures, including oOh!'s Non-Audit Services Policy, adopted by the Group and have been reviewed by those charged with the governance of the Group throughout the year to ensure they do not impact the integrity and objectivity of the auditor; and
- the non-audit services provided do not undermine the general principles relating to auditor independence as set out in APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) as they did not involve the auditor reviewing or auditing its own work, acting in a management or decision-making capacity for the Group, acting as an advocate to the Group or jointly sharing the risks and rewards.

Details of the audit and non-audit service fees paid or payable to the Company's auditor during the year are disclosed in Note 31 of the financial statements.

Remuneration Report

Chair's Letter

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the Board, I am pleased to present oOh!media's Remuneration Report for the year ended 31 December 2025 (CY25).

While a detailed review of the Company's financial performance is covered in the financial results in this Annual Report, we are pleased that oOh! delivered full-year revenue growth of 8.8% and adjusted underlying EBITDA growth of 8.0%, with Out of Home continuing to outperform the broader Australian media sector.

Remuneration Framework

We remain committed to a remuneration framework that aligns executive reward with Company performance and the creation of long-term shareholder value. The framework combines fixed remuneration with short-term incentives tied to annual financial and strategic objectives, and long-term incentives linked to sustained value creation through return on capital and free cash flow generation and relative Total Shareholder Return.

For CY25, no material changes were made to the remuneration framework, and the Board does not anticipate changes for CY26.

Short-Term Incentives (STI)

For CY25, the STI plan weighting for revenue was reduced by 5%, offset by a corresponding increase in the market share metric to drive greater focus on competitive positioning and align with oOh!'s strategic priorities. The Company exceeded its revenue target and achieved 97% of its adjusted underlying EBITDA target, but fell short of the Market Share target, resulting in 68% of the target potential payout being awarded. Further details of the STI outcomes can be found in the Executive KMP STI Outcomes section of this report.

Long-Term Incentives (LTI)

The CY23 LTI Plan did not vest as the performance measures were not achieved. Further details of the outcomes can be found in the LTI Outcomes section of this report.

No changes have been made to the CY26 LTI plan.

Chair, Talent & Culture Committee

Leadership Transition

Managing Director and CEO, Cathy O'Connor announced in April her intention to depart oOh! towards the end of 2025. After conducting an extensive search, we were delighted to appoint James Taylor as our new Managing Director and CEO in December 2025 to lead oOh! through its next phase of growth.

The Board acknowledges Cathy's significant contribution to oOh! during the past five years, in what has been a very transformative period. She led the business through particularly challenging market conditions, including the impacts of the COVID pandemic, and has been instrumental in positioning oOh! through its recent tender wins that will drive future revenue and market share growth.

Cathy's departure arrangements, detailed in the CEO Transition Arrangements section of this report, reflect her committed service and significant contribution over this period. Cathy stepped down as Key Management Personnel (KMP) in December 2025, but remained with the Company through to 30 January 2026 to support an orderly and smooth leadership transition. Accordingly, Cathy forfeited her entitlement to the CY25 STI and CY24 and CY25 LTI awards.

The total remuneration package for James is broadly comparable to his predecessor, and his remuneration arrangements were set following a rigorous benchmarking process and reflect the market positioning necessary to attract an external, proven CEO of his calibre and deep media and advertising industry experience.

Retention Arrangements

To maintain business stability during the CEO transition, the Board also provided one-off retention equity grants to CFO, Chris Roberts and a number of other senior executives. These retention awards were selective and provided only where considered necessary to safeguard business continuity. Chris and other recipients are regarded as essential in maintaining operational stability and supporting execution of the Company's strategy during the leadership transition.

Vesting of the awards is subject to continued service and conduct requirements over the retention period, as well as the achievement of performance conditions linked to minimum market share growth and EBITDA margin targets, ensuring the awards are aligned with both retention and the delivery of shareholder value.

Summary

With significant growth through the first half, tempered by lower trading conditions in the second half, we are confident that this year's remuneration outcomes adequately reflect the performance of oOh! and are aligned with the interests of our shareholders, while supporting our ability to retain the executive capability required to deliver on our strategic objectives.

In closing, I would like to extend my gratitude to the entire oOh! team for their dedication throughout 2025 and thank our shareholders for your continued support.

2. Remuneration approach and framework

Objectives and principles

The overarching objective of oOh!media's remuneration framework is to attract, retain and motivate the right talent and align rewards to performance. This objective is underpinned by the guiding principles that remuneration be market competitive, performance-related, fair, and easily understood.

Executive incentives are performance-based and "at-risk". They are designed to reward achievement of oOh!media's annual financial and strategic goals, as well as long-term growth in shareholder value.

Approach to determining remuneration

Total remuneration comprises fixed annual remuneration (FAR) and performance-based remuneration in the form of both short-term and long-term incentives. Total remuneration is reviewed on an annual basis taking into consideration market data, performance of the Company and the individual as well as market conditions.

The approach is to position remuneration for Executive KMP principally within a competitive range of industry peers. There is also consideration of other Australian listed companies of a similar size, complexity, and prominence.

Executive KMP remuneration structure

The Board and the Talent & Culture Committee (TCC) review the remuneration structure on an annual basis to ensure it remains fit-for-purpose to support the achievement of the Company's financial and strategic objectives.

Remuneration is structured so that a substantial portion of remuneration is delivered in equity through deferred STI or LTI. The table below shows that remuneration to Executives is earned over a period of up to three years. This ensures that the interests of our most senior leaders are aligned with shareholders and the delivery of the long-term business strategy.

Below is an overview of the remuneration structure for Executive KMP, with further detail on the STI and LTI Plans, including performance metrics, in the following sections.

Remuneration element

Fixed Annual Remuneration (FAR)

- Reflects core performance requirements and role expectations relative to the scale and size of oOh!'s business and the internal and external market.
- Comprises base salary, non-monetary benefits, and superannuation.

Performance-based remuneration (at-risk remuneration)

Short-Term Incentive (STI)

- Linked to clearly specified annual performance targets that are aligned to the Company's annual and medium-term financial and strategic objectives.
- Delivered as 2/3 cash, and 1/3 deferred equity in the form of restricted shares.
- Restricted shares are subject to a 12-month restriction period and release is dependent upon continued employment and a conduct/behaviour assessment.

Long-Term Incentive (LTI)

- Linked to Company financial performance hurdles that are measured over a 3-year performance period to align the interests of Executive KMP and other key employees with shareholders by focusing on long-term growth.
- Delivered as equity in the form of performance-rights.
- Vesting of performance rights are subject to achievement of performance hurdles as well as continued employment and conduct/behaviour assessment.

Remuneration adjustment and clawback

The Board retains discretion to adjust performance-based remuneration where it determines it is appropriate. In exercising this discretion, the Board considers Company performance and individual conduct, including behaviour in accordance with the Company's values and Code of Conduct. Circumstances that may warrant adjustment or clawback include fraudulent or dishonest behaviour, gross misconduct and, breach of obligations or material financial misstatements.

Executive KMP pay mix

Consistent with oOh!media's remuneration philosophy and framework, the annual remuneration review for Executive KMP continues to be focused on re-weighting towards at-risk components to align with the desired pay mix for Total Target Remuneration, which is fixed remuneration at 50%, short-term incentives (STI) at 25%, and long-term incentives (LTI) at 25%.

The graphs below illustrates the FY25 pay mix for Executive KMP at both Target and Maximum opportunity.

Note:

- Pay mix data for Cathy O'Connor (Outgoing CEO) illustrates her remuneration framework at target and maximum, consistent with her employment agreement. While no STI or LTI awards were granted for FY25, presenting the framework allows for meaningful comparison with the incoming CEO's structure.
- The pay mix shown for James Taylor (Incoming CEO) is based on annualised 2025 amounts for salary, short-term incentive and long-term incentive. From 2026, James Taylor's target pay mix will shift further towards at-risk remuneration, with Fixed Pay reducing to 43%, STI at 16%, and LTI at 41%, reflecting the Board's continued focus on aligning executive remuneration with performance and shareholder outcomes.
- The pay mix shown for Chris Roberts includes the 2025 LTI Retention amounts.

3. Executive KMP Short-Term Incentive (STI) Plan

Overview

Purpose	To reward the achievement of annual performance targets aligned with oOh!media's business strategy and objectives to deliver sustainable stakeholder outcomes.
Funding	The pool to fund the STI Plan is determined by the Group's financial performance.
Deferral	1/3 of annual STI outcome is deferred into equity in the form of 1-year Restricted Shares with the remaining 2/3 paid as cash. Participants may voluntarily elect for the deferred portion to be subject to post-vesting disposal restrictions for up to 15 years from commencement of the annual performance period. The number of Restricted Shares granted is determined using the 10-day volume weighted average price (VWAP) of an ordinary share (ASX:OML) following the release to market of the Company's annual financial results announcement (rounded down to the nearest whole number).

Performance metrics

The table below relates to the performance period 1 January 2025 to 31 December 2025. To drive a continued focus on achieving market share the weighting for both the revenue and market share measures were made equal for the 2025 performance year.

4. Executive KMP Long-Term Incentive (LTI) Plan

Overview

Purpose	To provide a shareholder aligned incentive to attract, retain and motivate eligible senior employees whose current and potential contributions are important to the long-term success of oOh! Media
Overview	Performance rights with a three-year performance period subject to performance against three Company financial measures.
Award	LTI is awarded as a dollar value. The number of performance rights granted is determined by dividing the dollar value by the face value of an ordinary share (ASX:OML). The face value is calculated using the 10-day volume weighted average price (VWAP) following the release of oOh! Media's annual financial results. Performance rights are granted for nil consideration.
Vesting date	Awards are tested for vesting against the achievement of the performance hurdles at the end of the three-year performance period, generally in February each year. Final vesting is subject to Board approval.
Cessation of employment	If an Executive KMP ceases employment with oOh!media before the end of the performance period, their entitlement to rights (if any) will: • Lapse in full in the event of resignation or termination for cause, or • Subject to Board discretion and approval, may be provided in full or pro-rated in the event of redundancy, ill health, death, or other limited exceptional circumstances.

Performance metrics

The table below relates to the performance period 1 January 2025 to 31 December 2027.

Component	Measure	Weighting
FCF Cumulative Free Cash Flow per share	FCF aligns incentives with shareholder interests by measuring and rewarding oOh!media's ability to generate cash flow on a per share basis. FCF is cash that's available to be distributed to shareholders or for further investment and is more transparent (vs. earnings) due to the impact of AASB 16 which can be distortionary on earnings per share (EPS). The value of the Company is partially determined by the market's assessment of oOh!'s ability to generate cash flow as this ultimately funds dividends and future expansion opportunities. • Measured as cents per share (cps) over the 3-year performance period. • Calculated as (operating cash flow less capital expenditure and finance lease liabilities paid during the performance period) divided by (weighted number of issued shares on issue during the performance period).	33%

Executive KMP

oOh!media has entered into service agreements with each Executive KMP. The Group retains the right to terminate a contract immediately by making payment equal to the agreed number of months' fixed annual remuneration (FAR) in lieu of notice, including superannuation plus any statutory entitlements of accrued annual and long service leave. The service contracts outline the components of remuneration but do not prescribe how remuneration levels are modified year-to-year.

The key conditions of the service agreements of the Executive KMP are set out in the following table.

Name	Agreement commenced	Agreement expires	Notice of termination by Company	Notice of termination by Employee	Termination payment under the contract
Cathy O'Connor (Former MD & CEO)	01-Jan-21	08-Dec-25	12 months	12 months	12 Months FAR
James Taylor	08-Dec-25	No expiry	12 months	12 months	12 Months FAR
Chris Roberts	01-Aug-22	No expiry	6 months	6 months	6 Months FAR

CEO Transition Arrangements

Cathy O'Connor

Cathy O'Connor ceased as CEO and KMP effective 8 December 2025, and continued to be available as a strategic advisor until 30 January 2026 as her final day of employment.

On Cathy's departure, the following payments and treatments were determined:

- termination benefits of $1,245,616 representing 12 months FAR, in addition to payments related to her strategic advisory role of $198,710 for the period up to 30 January 2026.
- $329,077 accrued statutory annual leave and long service leave entitlements up to 30 January 2026.

Cathy forfeited her FY25 STI and the 2024 LTI grant, with her 2025 LTI grant having been withdrawn from the 2025 AGM following Cathy's resignation in the first half of the 2025 calendar year. While Cathy remained eligible for the FY23 LTI grant, testing of the applicable performance conditions determined that the award did not vest and, in accordance with the original terms of the grant, the FY23 LTI lapsed in full.

James Taylor

James Taylor commenced employment with oOh!media as CEO and KMP effective 8 December 2025. The remuneration quantum and terms of James' employment are as publicly disclosed on 11 August 2025 and include:

- FAR of $1,344,000,
- STI on-target of $500,000 and up to $750,000 at maximum (150% of on target), and
- LTI opportunity of $1,300,000 at face value.

The relevant incentive equity grants will be subject to shareholder approval at the AGM in May 2026.

CFO Retention Arrangements

In light of the CEO transition and in recognition of the strong in-role performance Chris Roberts has demonstrated since his appointment to the CFO role, Chris has received a one-off retention grant of 300,030 rights ($500,000 face value) that will vest in two equal tranches at the end of the 1 March 2027 vesting period. Tranche 1 and 2 are both subject to service conditions, but the Tranche 2 rights will only vest subject to the additional business performance conditions. (Refer to section 4).

Non-executive Directors

Non-executive Directors' terms of appointment have no fixed end date, no fixed notice of termination period, nor any agreed termination payments. All Non-executive Directors may not hold office without re-election by shareholders beyond the third Annual General Meeting following appointment or the meeting at which they were last elected.

KMP Related Party Transactions

There were no KMP related party transactions during the reporting period.

8. Statutory remuneration table

The following statutory remuneration disclosure table for KMP has been prepared in accordance with accounting standards and the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) requirements. The amounts shown relating to share-based remuneration are equal to the accounting expense recognised in oOh!media's Consolidated Financial Statements in respect of the LTI rights grant. These amounts do not reflect the actual realisable value received in FY25 year or in future years.

11. LTI to be reported in future years

The outcome of each LTI grant may be reported in future years when it impacts the realised remuneration of the KMP during the relevant performance period. The fair value of LTI performance rights that have been granted is amortised over the performance period. The following table summarises the maximum LTI value that will be reported in the statutory remuneration tables in future years if the relevant performance conditions are met in full. The minimum LTI value is nil if the Company fails to meet any of the relevant performance conditions.

Basis of Preparation

Reporting Entity

Our 2025 Report (this "Report") has been prepared for oOh!media Limited and its controlled entities (oOh!) and should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements.

Statement of Compliance

This Report is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 and the Australian Sustainability Reporting Standards AASB S2 Climate-related Disclosures (AASB S2), as set by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB).

Connected information

This Report contains climate-related financial information, for the financial year ending 31 December 2025, which aligns with the reporting period of oOh!'s consolidated financial statements.

The presentation currency in this Report is Australian Dollars, which aligns to the presentation currency used in our consolidated financial statements.

Transition reliefs

In preparing this Report we have applied the following transition reliefs for our first annual reporting period:

- 1) Not to disclose comparative information (AASB, S2, Appendix C, C3)
- 2) Not to disclose Scope 3 greenhouse gas emissions (AASB, S2, Appendix C, C4 (b))

Judgement and Measurement uncertainties

The preparation and presentation of this Report involved applying judgement to determine what information is relevant, reliable and useful to disclose. Additionally, the preparation of this Report required the use of estimates for certain amounts, which could not be measured directly. Measurement uncertainty arises from data gaps, external factors and forward-looking information. The tables below summarise key judgements applied and measurement uncertainty affecting the amounts disclosed:

Area of management judgement	Judgement made
GHG Emissions – Report boundary	For certain advertising assets and non-advertising infrastructure that consumes electricity, oOh! has assessed that it does not have operational control. This is because oOh! does not have the authority to directly purchase electricity from an electricity retailer, to power the assets and infrastructure – rather relying entirely on a commercial landlord for the provision of power. Additionally, in certain, and diverse instances, oOh! does not have the ability to control operating hours, have ownership of an asset or infrastructure, or maintain the asset or infrastructure. Accordingly, these assets and infrastructure will be reported under Scope 3 - Upstream Leased Assets, in future reporting periods. Based on the above, our operational reporting boundary is as follows: Scope 1 • Direct emissions from Company owned or leased vehicles; and • Owned plant equipment (e.g. generators, forklifts) (collectively "Operational Assets"). Scope 2 • Indirect emissions from Offices, Warehouses, Printing Facility electricity use, where oOh! directly purchases electricity (collectively "Premises"). • Advertising and non-advertising assets and infrastructure that use electricity, where oOh! has direct authority to implement the electricity supply (collectively "Controlled Assets"). These include Street Furniture and partial^(^) Road assets. (^(^) 'partial' as some Road assets are implemented under an oOh!-controlled electricity account, therefore falling into Scope 2, whereas other Road assets are reliant on a commercial landlord for the provision and billing of power, therefore falling into Scope 3). Scope 3 • Other indirect emissions occurring across the value chain, including emissions from the purchase of goods and services, capital goods, business travel, and waste (collectively "Supply Chain"). • Advertising and non-advertising assets and infrastructure that use electricity, where oOh! does not have direct authority to implement the supply, will be included in our Scope 3 Upstream Leased Assets emissions count in future years (collectively "Leased Assets"). These include Fly (Airports), Retail, Rail, City & Youth and partial^(^) Road assets.
Scenario Analysis – Modelling using 2023 data	Judgement was used in undertaking scenario analysis modelling in 3Q24, utilising 2023 data (Jan – Dec). This decision was taken, as 2023 data was the most reliable 12-month data set, at the time modelling was carried out, and it was considered appropriate because asset mix and locations do not vary materially, in nature, overtime. oOh!'s business model has remained unchanged since modelling was carried out, and while individual commercial contracts/groups of assets and infrastructure have been removed or added to our portfolio since, the asset and infrastructure mix and location types are all similar in the context of scenario analysis (e.g. assets continue to be either digital or classic, large format or small format, internals or externals, metro or regional etc). Should there be any major changes to our business that could affect our risks and opportunities profile materially, we will conduct a new scenario analysis. Otherwise, we will conduct a new scenario analysis in line with our strategic planning cycle.

Scenario Analysis – Modelling included an additional scenario	We modelled using warming scenarios that reflected temperature outcomes and pathways as set out by legislation. We applied judgement to also model a scenario that aligns with reaching a world under 2°C warming by 2100. This decision was taken given the 1.5°C threshold is already challenged, and we wanted to capture a more realistic picture of our physical risk exposure, which could affect oOh!'s financial position, performance and cash flows, over the short, medium and long term. We also used judgment in selecting Shared Socioeconomic Pathways (SSPs), Australian Energy Market Operator (AEMO) and the Network for Greening the Financial System (NGFS) models in combination, for our scenario analysis. This approach provided oOh! with a diverse and decision-relevant basis for evaluating the resilience of our business, under a range of plausible climate futures.
Scenario Analysis – Materiality	oOh!'s climate-related risks and opportunities identification process, identified a long list of risk and opportunities for initial consideration. A process was then undertaken to ascertain the most relevant risks and opportunities to be assessed in our scenario analysis work. The refinement process to produce a short list, was supported by stakeholder workshops to, map exposure and potential impacts and to interrogate risks and opportunities specific to our business model and supply chain. As documented in the Strategy section of this Report, following our scenario analysis, we established that exposure to electricity pricing was our only material risk (transition risk). Our exposure to electricity pricing specifically relates to the projected rising price of grid electricity across all scenarios, particularly in the short-term horizon (2030), after which point, prices are expected to stabilise and then decline. Rather than attempting to single out the contribution to price increases, that climate-related transition specifically is estimated to be responsible for, we judged materiality in the context of our entire electricity spend (using a % profit before tax as our materiality threshold). As we grow our business digitally and are exposed to price increases that we cannot control, much of which is linked to government transition policies due to climate change, we determined that the management of electricity pricing holistically is essential to minimise our ongoing cost exposure.
General area of measurement uncertainty	Description of the measurement uncertainty
GHG emissions	GHG emissions quantification is unavoidably subject to significant inherent limitations because of incomplete scientific knowledge and limitations of methods used, for determining emission factors and activity data. Management has applied measurement techniques in the absence of actual electricity data – detailed in the following sections in this Report: Estimates in relation to Street Furniture Assets and Estimates in relation to Road Assets.
Climate-resilience assessment	Forward looking disclosures on our material transition risk, rely on assumptions about future electricity prices (on a 5-yearly basis) which contain a high degree of measurement uncertainty. Our climate-resilience assessment also assumes that our digital screen suppliers, will continue to invest in newer designs that have enhanced resilience to heat, impact, and water ingress, and will continue to innovate to drive energy efficiency in their products, which has a degree of uncertainty.

Governance

of Climate-Related Risks and Opportunities

Oversight responsibility

The diagram below sets out oOh!'s governance structure with relation to climate-related risks and opportunities. oOh!'s Board of Directors is ultimately responsible for governance oversight, as advised by the Audit, Risk & Compliance Committee (ARCC) and the Talent & Culture Committee (TCC), our Board delegated authorities.

Climate-Related Risks and Opportunities – Governance

ESG related topics are a recurring ARCC agenda point every quarter, presented by the Head of ESG. Climate-related risks and opportunities specifically, now form part of those topics and material risks are reported to the ARCC twice a year by the Head of Risk via the Enterprise Risk Register. Monitoring the identification and management of economic, environmental and social sustainability risks and its disclosure of any material exposures to those risks, is set out in the ARCC Charter, taking into consideration climate-related risks within this group of risks.

oOh! has a Risk Management Framework (see Risk management section for further detail) that outlines how the business identifies, assesses, prioritises, and monitors risks within the Group. The effectiveness of this framework is overseen by the ARCC. ESG risk (which includes climate) has been identified as a business risk and is listed on the Enterprise Risk Register. This means that climate risk is closely monitored by both the ARCC and the Executive Leadership team to ensure that appropriate consideration is incorporated within oOh!'s decision-making processes and governance framework.

oOh! also has an internal risk appetite statement that governs the trade-offs we will consider for major transactions. Specifically, operational emissions are captured on this statement, with oOh! having a low tolerance level for increasing our carbon footprint on a per asset basis, year on year.

Climate-related skills and competencies

The Talent & Culture Committee (TCC) has delegated Board authority and is charged with assessing whether appropriate skills and competencies are available or will be developed, to oversee strategies designed to respond to climate-related risks and opportunities.

In the reporting year, the Board self-assessed for climate-related skills and competencies as set out below:

Area of Skill and Competency tested	Self-assessment Result
	Expert	Advanced	General
Health, safety and sustainability – Sustainability governance, environmental impact and emissions oversight, overseeing strategies designed to respond to both physical and transition climate-related risks and opportunities , human rights and modern slavery oversight, safety culture oversight and root cause analysis.	0 Directors	5 Directors	1 Director

The Board self-assessed, determining their level of skill and competency using the following criteria:

- Expert – recognised expert with deep practicing experience
- Advanced – consistent ability to identify complex oversights
- General – broad and general knowledge of subject area

The Head of ESG at oOh! organises opportunities to upskill members of the Board and the Group Chief Financial Officer, to support their understanding of climate-related risks and opportunities. For example, in CY25, the ARCC and the Group Chief Financial Officer have been educated on the climate risk modelling work, and assurance and reporting requirements.

Targets and Executive Incentives

For the CY25 reporting year, no targets were set. All future climate-related risks and opportunities targets will be approved and monitored by the Board.

Consideration regarding any additional Long-Term Incentives (LTIs) for executive leaders, to support the delivery of sustainability initiatives including the management of climate-related risks and opportunities, will be given when appropriate and relative to the nature of our company. The TCC has oversight of any future LTIs.

Management's role

The Group Chief Financial Officer, who sits on the Executive Leadership Team (ELT) at oOh!, is the executive sponsor of our sustainability-related approach and is responsible for overseeing sustainability-related reporting obligations and climate-related risk.

oOh!'s Senior Leadership Team (SLT), which holds ELT -1 positions (one level below the Executive Leadership Team) has management accountability for the delivery of sustainability outcomes throughout the business. This includes accountability for the identification of new and emerging risks and assessing such risks, in their day-to-day areas of operation, with support from the ESG Team and the Risk Team. The Heads of ESG and Risk both sit on the SLT, and both report directly to the Group Chief Financial Officer.

The ESG Team at oOh!, under the Head of ESG, has overall responsibility for climate-related risks and opportunities identification, assessing and monitoring in collaboration with the relevant departmental SLT member. In addition, they are responsible for the development of oOh!'s climate risks mitigation plans (still in development) and cross-business collaboration. The Head of ESG provides the SLT with updates on sustainability related activity, including updates on climate-related risks and opportunities, every quarter.

The ESG Team at oOh! has an annual process in place to review the preceding year's data (e.g. asset numbers and locations, electricity consumption, electricity pricing, maintenance logs, insurance premiums), to reassess the identification and materiality of climate-related risks and opportunities across the business. This process enables the ESG team at oOh! to identify emerging material and climate related risks and opportunities and inform the Executive and the Audit, Risk & Compliance Committee.

The Head of Risk is responsible for reporting climate-related risks and opportunities to the ARCC via the Enterprise Risk Register.

Departments including Wellbeing, Safety and Environment (WSE), Network Operations, Procurement and Digital Product Operations support our climate resilience, by building controls in their respective business areas in alignment with our Wellbeing, Safety and Environment Policy, Sustainability Policy and procurement framework.

Strategy for Management

of Climate-Related Risks and Opportunities

Introduction

oOh!'s climate-related risks and opportunities assessment considered physical and transition risks and opportunities, over a short-, medium- and long-term time horizon, and across very low, low and high warming scenarios. Following quantification of the outputs, we judged that exposure to electricity pricing was our only material risk (transition risk). No physical risks or opportunities were identified as being material.

Our exposure to electricity pricing specifically relates to the projected rising price of grid electricity across all scenarios, particularly in the short-term horizon (2030), after which point, prices are expected to stabilise and then decline.

oOh!'s annual spend on electricity in 2025 was $6.6m (for Group), with the Australian operations accounting for approximately 88% of this spend. This spend will grow naturally in line with our business strategy to expand our digital network - digital screens use a lot more electricity than static panels – but more significantly this spend will increase due to the rising price of electricity, which is driven by inflation, demand and the cost of transition to renewables, the estimates of which are significantly increasing (in the Draft 2025 Electricity Network Options Report, the AEMO reported a 25% - 55% increase in real costs for overhead transmission line projects compared to those prepared for 2024). For oOh!, our digitisation strategy is focused on billboards, retail and street furniture, therefore these assets are predicted to be the most exposed to electricity price increases.

Rather than attempting to single out the contribution to price increases, that climate-related transition costs specifically are estimated to be responsible for, we judged materiality in the context of our entire electricity spend (using a % profit before tax as our materiality threshold). As we grow our business digitally and are exposed to price increases that we cannot control, much of which is linked to government transition policies in response to climate change, we determined that the management of electricity pricing holistically is essential to minimise our ongoing cost exposure.

While oOh!'s mitigation plan to manage this material transition risk, is yet to be finalised, some mitigation projects did occur in the reporting period to help address our more immediate exposure to electricity price increases - such as an audit of unmetered assets to confirm consumption levels, a review of our renewable energy agreements and the introduction of energy efficiency thresholds when procuring digital screens. See our risks table in the climate-related scenario analysis and resilience section, for further examples of mitigation projects carried out in this reporting year. Efforts to reduce the electricity we consume, as part of our final mitigation plan, will additionally support oOh!'s ambition to reduce emissions, as electricity accounts for the majority of our carbon footprint.

In summary, as set out in further detail in this section, the results of our climate-related risk and opportunities assessment and scenario analysis indicated that oOh!'s material risk is limited to one transition risk, and with appropriate mitigation projects in place, our current business strategy to expand our digital footprint remains viable, under the scenarios that we tested, across all time horizons.

Current and Anticipated effects

Current Effect

- In this reporting year we spent $6.6m on electricity. This compared to our previous reporting year of $7.6m for the group (13% decrease YOY) due in part to the mitigation projects we put in place to address our immediate exposure, as well as some asset changes across the business.
- There has been no material effect on our financial position, financial performance or cash flow in this reporting period and we do not anticipate any material adjustment within the next annual reporting period.
- Capital - oOh! has been investing capital in more energy efficient technology for a number of years, particularly in the upgrade of small format panels from LCD to LED, which has become a BAU approach for our Street Furniture inventory. This investment is expected to continue and expand into digital large format as we introduce energy efficiency thresholds when procuring digital screens. This approach can lead to a trade-off due to a more expensive upfront cost, while delivering electricity cost savings over the screen's lifetime. The addition of energy efficiency thresholds in our digital procurement strategy was introduced in Q3 of the reporting year – it's impact will be tracked on a case-by-case basis in terms of any additional effect to committed capital, over and above our BAU approach.

Anticipated Effects (without mitigation)

The numbers below reflect anticipated electricity cost over the short-, medium- and long-term, using a baseline spend for modelling purposes of $7m, and based on our scenario analysis using two futures where transition risk dominate. oOh! will finalise our mitigation plan to reduce the risk of these anticipated effects in future years. The numbers below assume a net gain of additional digital assets by 2030, which would contribute approximately 5% oOh!'s electricity bill all else being equal – with the remaining increase being associated to increases due to inflation, demand and transition costs.

The electricity cost for this reporting year, sits within the following cost lines on page 65 of oOh!'s consolidated financial statements:

- Cost of media sites and production (relates to electricity paid directly to electricity retailers, for "Controlled Assets" plus electricity paid to commercial landlords for "Leased Assets") and
- Other expenses (relates to electricity paid for "Premises")

Other risks assessed

Transition Risk – oOh! considered changing advertising sector activity (e.g. a legislated fossil fuel advertising ban) as a possible transition risk, impacting oOh!'s revenue streams, however this risk was determined to be immaterial, as alternate advertising categories would naturally emerge to replace any lost advertising categories (e.g. in the instance of a fossil fuel ban, the renewables energy sector would advertise in place of fossil fuel advertisers).

Physical Risk – Risks were identified arising from specific climate hazards, being extreme heat, extreme rain, and storm surge. These risks included increasing repairs and replacement costs for our assets due to damage caused by acute climatic events, and rising insurance premiums against revenue loss and asset damage. Regions identified to have the largest future changes in climate were predominantly non-metro regions, where oOh! has a limited number of assets, except for; extreme heat, which had a large future change in Perth, Adelaide and Brisbane metros from 2040 (all scenarios), and storm surge, which had a large future change in Wellington, Perth and Sydney from 2040 (all scenarios). All risks identified were determined to be immaterial across all scenarios and time horizons.

- Repairs and replacement costs - when modelled out, future cost exposure remained immaterial, with our businesses strategy to expand our digital media footprint, actually supporting the sustainable resilience of our network, as newer designs have enhanced resilience to heat, impact, and water ingress. Even in the higher warming scenarios with additional hot and wet days, the cost impact was immaterial.
- Insurance premiums - we also considered insurance premiums associated with asset damage or revenue loss, to understand if our exposure to these rising costs becomes material over time, however these costs too were determined to be immaterial across all scenarios and time horizons. With regards to insurance against revenue loss, immateriality is primarily due to the geographic spread of oOh!'s network of assets, which inherently provides a hedge against loss. Our diversified asset network means that even if multiple sites are impacted by extreme weather events, advertising campaigns can be quickly relocated or brought back online relatively soon to minimise revenue risk. And with regards to insurance against asset damage, as noted above, our network is becoming more resilient, not less, over time.

Time Horizons

oOh!'s network profile is governed by which commercial contracts the business secures, with such contractual arrangements ranging from 5-10 years. The time horizons used for climate-related scenario analysis, took a rolling lifecycle view of commercial contracts to determine short- (2030), medium- (2040) and long-term (2050) horizons. Using this commercial view, enables the business to assess physical and transition climate-related risks and opportunities as part of our strategic decision making around short-, medium- and long-term network shape and our commercial bidding strategy.

Business Model, Value Chain and Resource

Business model - oOh!'s business model focuses on digital and traditional (static) out-of-home advertising, offering a wide range of media options to advertisers including billboards, street furniture, office tower, rail, university, retail and airport advertising. As the largest out-of-home operator in Australia (revenue and asset numbers), we have a strong presence in both metro and regional markets in Australia as well as metro markets in New Zealand, providing targeted and impactful advertising campaigns. There are no current effects or anticipated impacts of our material risk on our existing business model.

Value chain - oOh!'s value chain includes advertisers, media agencies, creative agencies, commercial landlords, technology providers, infrastructure manufacturers, service providers and the public. We anticipate more extensive engagement with our providers of digital screens, as we introduce energy efficiency thresholds into our procurement strategy and seek out energy efficient product offerings. We also anticipate more extensive engagement with electricity retailers, distributors and providers of renewable energy certificates as we finalise and execute our mitigation plan.

Resource - As noted in the risk table in the Climate-related scenario analysis and resilience section, in the reporting year we onboarded a dedicated electricity management resource to our Network Operations team. Other than this role, there is adequacy of resource within existing areas of the business e.g. the ESG Team, Network Operations, Wellbeing, Safety and Environment (WSE), Digital Production Operations, Risk and Procurement to address our material risk.

Climate-related scenario analysis and resilience

oOh! assessed our climate resilience using scenario analysis in 3Q24, and aligned to our strategic planning cycle, covering all Australian and New Zealand operations and assets, over the short- (2030), medium- (2040) and long-term, (2050) time horizons. We carried out our assessment with the assistance of an external consultant, who has expertise in climate-related scenario analysis and experience relevant to the environments in which we operate.

All “Controlled Assets” and “Leased Assets” (see Basis of Preparation for definitions) were included in the scenario work. Due to the vast asset portfolio across Australia and New Zealand, we estimated the future climate for 324 Local Government Areas (LGAs) in Australia, and 19 Territorial Authorities in New Zealand regions. This provided oOh! with a comprehensive view of climate across the whole portfolio, and hotspot regions.

Climate-related scenarios	Reference
1. NGFS Net Zero 2050, 1.5°C, transition risks and opportunities dominate	Very low emissions scenario
2. NGFS Delayed Transition, SSP1-2.6/RCP2.6, Below 2°C, transition risk and opportunities dominate, but physical risks also increase	Low emissions scenario
3. NGFS Current Policies, SSP5-8.5/RCP8.5, 3.3°C to 5.7°C, physical risks dominate	High emissions scenario

As noted in our Basis of Preparation, oOh! modelled using warming scenarios that reflected temperature outcomes and pathways as set out by legislation. In addition, we applied judgement to model an additional scenario that aligns with reaching a world under 2°C warming by 2100, to assess our physical risks.

We used IPCC as base models, overlaid with additional models from NGFS (Network for Greening of Financial System) and AEMO (Australian Energy Market Operator) - AEMO Green Energy Exports and AEMO Step Change. These models enabled us to assess impacts on electricity prices, solar capital costs, energy efficiency improvements for Australia and energy mix during transition to a low carbon economy.

Together, these scenarios and models provided oOh! with a diverse and decision-relevant basis for evaluating the resilience of our strategy, under a range of plausible climate futures.

Scenario analysis assumptions

Very low emissions scenario

Aggressive emission reduction scenario to meet the Paris Agreement, marked by global collaboration by governments, society and industry to lead steep decarbonisation.

- Socio-economic narrative: assumes low population growth with medium migration, reduced inequality with high GDP growth per capita and low material consumption.
- Globally coordinated effort to reduce emissions to net zero and avert the worst effects of climate change in line with the Paris Agreement.
- Accelerated transition to renewables and electrification, and aggressive regulations limiting the extraction and use of fossil fuels in all major economies.

Low emissions scenario

Climate policies become gradually more stringent over time, reaching net zero emissions after 2070.

- Socio-economic narrative: assumes low population growth with medium migration, reduced inequality with high GDP growth per capita and low material consumption.
- Global carbon emissions are cut severely, but not as fast. Temperature stabilises around 1.8C higher by the end of the century.
- Moderate technology change, gradual transition to renewables and electrification, and increasing regulations limiting the extraction and use of fossil fuels in all major economies' technology change.

High emissions scenario

Baseline of how global emissions would evolve if governments and markets make no changes to their existing policies and investments in low carbon.

- Socio-economic narrative: assumes low population growth but with high migration, strongly reduced inequality with high GDP growth per capita and high material consumption.
- Emission reduction policies are limited to the current policies, and global coordination on tackling climate change is lacking.
- Continued use of fossil fuels, and energy intensive activities and lifestyles.
- Momentum in clean energy is insufficient to offset the effects of an expanding global economy and growing population.
- Effects of climate change require significant investments in adaptation measures to protect assets, infrastructure and communities.

The table below sets out our material climate-related risk (transition risk) identified through our climate-related scenario analysis, across the short, medium and long term.

Risk	Potential Impacts/ Outcomes	Time			Mitigation
		Short	Medium	Long

Transition risks (Very Low and Low emissions scenarios) and AEMO Green Energy Exports and AEMO Step Change models

Rising price of electricity	Rising price of grid electricity may increase our operational costs across both transition risk-dominated scenarios, and all time- horizons, particularly in the short term	X	X	X	Mitigation plan yet to be finalised, however the following projects occurred in the reporting period to help address our more immediate exposure to electricity price increases: • audit of unmetered assets to confirm consumption levels • dedicated electricity management resource added to our network operations team, with a focus on data management and billing accuracy • appointment of new electricity broker, with more relevant capability to support unmetered assets and renewable certificate purchases • state by state tariff review • introduction of energy efficiency thresholds when procuring digital screens

Key Findings and actions

The results of the scenario analysis indicated that oOh!'s climate-related risks are limited to one material risk, and that the current business strategy to expand our digital footprint remains viable, under both transition-focused scenarios that we tested and across all time horizons.

Understanding these key findings, meant we were able to undertake some projects during the reporting year to manage our more immediate exposure to price increases, while we finalise our mitigation plan. The final plan will likely include more longer-term options to build resilience to this risk, such as the role larger scale solar may play across our assets (NB we currently use solar across 4,000 bus shelters that consume low levels of power), noting our analysis revealed that solar technology pricing is expected to decline post 2030.

As a listed entity, oOh! has access to the equity capital market and it has a syndicated debt facility. These resources are more than adequate to fund both oOh!'s existing operations and any potential, future investments in climate-related resilience.

Risk Management

of Climate-Related Risks and Opportunities

Risk Management Processes

oOh! has an enterprise Risk Management Framework that outlines how the business identifies, assesses, responds to, and monitors risks within the Group. The principles set out in ISO 31000 have guided the creation and continuous improvement of oOh!'s framework.

In the reporting year, oOh! embedded ESG-related risks into the framework to align management of climate-related risks (which form part of ESG-related risks) with the rest of the business. oOh!'s Wellbeing, Safety and Environment Policy, Sustainability Policy and procurement framework set out how sustainability and climate should be considered throughout the business.

oOh! also updated the Enterprise Risk Register to incorporate ESG-related risks, and these risks are now assessed using the same assessment criteria and thresholds that are applied across the broader framework.

oOh! assesses all risks, whether climate-related or non-climate related, relative to each other based on probability and impact. Impact tends to be measured in financial terms but can also include qualitative measures such as strategic importance to the business (see table below).

The business tends to prioritise resources and management focus, in line with a higher or critical risk assessment or financial materiality.

oOh!'s risk management process is based on the following key steps:

The approach to identifying, assessing, prioritising and monitoring climate-related risks is consistent with the enterprise Risk Management Framework as follows:

Identifying	Assessing
oOh!'s Executive Leadership Team (ELT) has accountability for the identification of new and emerging risks across the business. oOh!'s Senior Leadership Team (SLT) - one level below the ELT – has accountability for the identification of new and emerging risks in their day-to-day areas of operation. The ESG Team at oOh! (with representation on the SLT and reporting into the Chief Financial Officer) has accountability for collaboration across the business to support the identification of ESG-related risk including climate-related risk. Specifically, the ESG Team: - engages with internal and external stakeholders about climate-risk - oversees business-wide scenario analysis to identify climate-related risks (and opportunities) - collaborates with our operational teams to build resilience and develop mitigation plans - scans the regulatory horizon to understand changes in relevant legislations and standards - oversees workshops bringing together internal stakeholders to understand climate-related strategic priorities	oOh!'s SLT has accountability for assessing risk in their area of operation with support from the ESG Team and the Risk Team. High or critical risk is escalated to the ELT for assessment. oOh! assesses risks using the following considerations: - Probability of risk occurring - Severity of impact or consequence (severe to negligible) against Financial Performance, Safety, Reputational and Operations - Quantitative impact based on our financial materiality threshold (using a % profit before tax as our materiality threshold)
Prioritising	Monitoring
oOh!'s SLT has accountability for managing risk in their area of operation, which includes prioritising resources in responding to the most critical risks, with support from the Risk Team. The ELT is responsible for prioritising risk recorded in the Enterprise Risk Register, prior to it being reported to the ARCC.	oOh!'s ELT has accountability for monitoring high or critical risks. The ESG Team monitors the effectiveness of climate-related risk management controls through stakeholder engagement and annual updates of underlying data, such as electricity prices and asset mix, to assess if there are any changes in our previously identified material, transition risk.

During oOh!'s climate-related risk identification work in 2024, in preparation for scenario analysis, the following data sources were used when assessing and prioritising risks:

- Current and projected revenue
- Current and projected network shape (asset type mix) by 2030
- Current energy and fuel use
- Staff incidents reported due to climatic events
- Worker health and safety policies
- Historical repair and replacement costs
- Historical insurance premiums versus claims
- Anticipated technological advancements from known partners/suppliers

Climate-Related Metrics

Metrics

We measured our emissions in accordance with The Greenhouse Gas Protocol – A Corporate Accounting and Reporting Standard, as required under AASB, paragraph 29(a)(ii). In applying the Greenhouse Gas Protocol, we have elected to use the operational control approach as our boundary for reporting.

During the reporting period, oOh! generated absolute gross greenhouse gas emissions measured in metric tonnes of CO₂ equivalent (tCO₂e) as set out in the table below:

Scope	Scope 1 Emissions	Scope 2 Emissions	Scope 3 Emissions
Reporting Year quantity (tCO ₂ e)	1,373 tCO ₂ e	Location Based: 7,593 tCO ₂ e Market Based: 0 tCO ₂ e	Processes in place to measure and report from CY26.

oOh! applies location-based and market-based emissions factors sourced from Australia's National Greenhouse Accounts (NGA) Factors and from the Ministry for the Environment in New Zealand (MFE).

Contractual Instruments and Market-Based Considerations

In December 2025, oOh! entered into a contract directly with Snowy Hydro for the procurement of I-RECs generated from renewable electricity for oOh!'s own use.

The contract impacts our market-based Scope 2 reporting by offsetting the associated Scope 2 emissions on the related electricity accounts. In the reporting year and through to the date of this report, we covered 5,095,000 kWh (approximately one third) of electricity usage with retired I-RECs, with the remainder covered by bundled GreenPower (or equivalent) arrangements, now expired (except for in New Zealand).

Measurement Approach

oOh! collects primary data on fuel use, electricity consumption, and supplier activity where available. Where primary data is not accessible, estimates are used.

Reasoning for Measurement Approach

Scope 1 - Greenhouse Gas Emissions

(Direct Emissions associated with "Operational Assets")

- Direct emissions from Company owned or leased vehicles
- Owned plant equipment (e.g. generators, forklifts)

Fuel usage is measured using fuel card transaction data, internal fleet records, and supplier invoices wherever available. Where direct measurement is not feasible, estimates are based on known activity levels and standard fuel consumption rates. Emissions factors are applied based on the NGA and MFE factors consistent with Greenhouse Gas Protocol Scope 1 reporting standards.

Scope 2 - Greenhouse Gas Emissions

(Location-Based Emissions associated with "Premises" and "Controlled Assets")

- Indirect emissions from Offices, Warehouses, Printing Facility electricity use, where oOh! directly purchases electricity
- Advertising and non-advertising infrastructure (e.g. bus shelters), that use electricity, where oOh! directly purchases electricity. (This includes Street Furniture and partial Road products)

Scope 2 emissions are calculated using both Market-based and the Location-based methods, which reflects the average emissions intensity of the electricity grid in the regions where oOh! operates. Electricity consumption is measured using metered data and utility invoices wherever possible. Where metered consumption data is not available estimates based on asset power consumption profiles are applied with emissions factors sourced from the NGA and MFE.

Estimates

Estimates in relation to Street Furniture Assets - When actual consumption data for Street Furniture assets is unavailable, consumption data is estimated using actual consumption for assets with like characteristics and tested wattages. In the reporting year, oOh! carried out an on-site audit of our unmetered Street Furniture portfolio across Australia to improve this data set. All varying bus shelter designs (with differing profiles of electricity consumption depending on the number of ad panels, type and age of advertising technology used, and style of safety lighting), were measured for consumption levels and applied across the portfolio, to get a more accurate calculation for our Scope 2 unmetered, electricity-related emissions. oOh! sourced actual data for 82% of our Street Furniture Assets in the reporting year.

Estimates in relation to Road Assets - When actual consumption data for road assets is unavailable, consumption is estimated using data pertaining to the characteristics of assets for which actual consumption data are available. To estimate consumption, road assets are disaggregated into 'asset buckets'; Classic – Halogen, LED or Fluro and Digital – 24 hr operating or less than 24 hr operating.

To estimate daily consumption (kWh), the following calculations have then been used:

Asset bucket	Formula
Classic - Halogen and LEDs	Average emissions intensity, where emissions intensity has been calculated as daily actual consumption per sqm per asset at National Metering Identifier (NMI) per light globe
Classic - Fluoro	Average emissions intensity, where emissions intensity has been calculated as daily actual consumption per sqm per asset at NMI per light globe
Digital – 24 hr operating	Average emissions intensity, where emissions intensity has been calculated as daily actual consumption per sqm per asset at NMI
Digital – less than 24 hr operating	Average emissions intensity, where emissions intensity has been calculated as daily actual consumption per sqm per asset at NMI oOh! sourced actual data for 78% of our Road Assets in the reporting year.

Decarbonisation Pathway Development

oOh! is yet to set any climate-related targets. We are currently developing oOh!'s Decarbonisation Pathway, which we anticipate will include targets.

Amount and Percentage of Assets vulnerable to climate-related risks

Risk Type	Amount of Vulnerable Assets (%)
Transition Risks (Electricity Pricing)	73% (~37,000) of "Controlled Assets" & "Leased Assets" use electricity, therefore, are considered vulnerable to electricity price increase.

Carbon Pricing

Currently oOh! does not apply an internal carbon price.

We have not become aware of any matter in the course of our review that makes us believe that the specified Sustainability Disclosures specified in the table above do not comply with Division 1 of Part 2M.3 of the Corporations Act 2001.

Basis for Conclusion

Our review has been conducted in accordance with ASSA 5000 General Requirements for Sustainability Assurance Engagements issued by the AUASB. Our review includes obtaining limited assurance about whether the specified Sustainability Disclosures are free from material misstatement.

In applying the relevant Criteria, we note that subsection 296C(1) of the Act includes a requirement to comply with AASB S2.

Our conclusion is based on the procedures we have performed and the evidence we have obtained in accordance with ASSA 5000. The procedures in a review vary in nature and timing from, and are less in extent than for, an audit. Consequently, the level of assurance obtained in a review is substantially lower than the assurance that would have been obtained had an audit been performed. See the "Summary of the Work Performed" section of our report.

Our responsibilities under ASSA 5000 are further described in the "Our responsibilities" section of our report.

We comply with the independence and other ethical requirements of APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) issued by the Accounting Professional & Ethical Standards Board Limited related to sustainability assurance engagements.

Our firm applies Auditing Standard ASQM1 Quality Management for Firms that Perform Audits or Reviews of Financial Reports and Other Financial Information, or Other Assurance or Related Services Engagements, issued by the AUASB. This standard requires the firm to design, implement and operate a system of quality management, including policies or procedures regarding compliance with ethical requirements, professional standards and applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our conclusion.

Other Information

The Directors of oOh!media Limited are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the financial and non-financial information included in oOh!media Limited's Annual Financial Report and CY25 Sustainability Report but does not include the Specified Sustainability Disclosures and our review report thereon.

Our conclusion on the Specified Sustainability Disclosures does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of conclusion thereon, with the exception of the Financial Report and Remuneration Report and our respective audit reports thereon.

In connection with our review of the Specified Sustainability Disclosures, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Specified Sustainability Disclosures, or our knowledge obtained when conducting the review, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities for the Specified Sustainability Disclosures

The Directors of oOh!media Limited are responsible for:

- The preparation of the Specified Sustainability Disclosures in accordance with the Act; and
- Designing, implementing and maintaining a system of internal control that it determines is necessary to enable the preparation of Specified Sustainability Disclosures in accordance with the Act that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Inherent Limitations

Inherent limitations exist in all assurance engagements due to the selective testing of the information being examined. It is therefore possible that fraud, error or material misstatement in the Specified Sustainability Disclosures may occur and not be detected. Non-financial data may be subject to more inherent limitations than financial data, given both its nature and the methods used for determining, calculating, and estimating such data. The precision of different measurement techniques may also vary. The absence of a significant body of established practice on which to draw to evaluate and measure non-financial information allows for different, but acceptable, evaluation and measurement techniques that can affect comparability between entities and over time.

For climate risks and opportunities, there is inherent uncertainty as a result of using assumptions about future events and management's actions that may not occur.

Greenhouse gas quantification is subject to inherent uncertainty due to the nature of the information and the uncertainties inherent in: (i) the methods used for determining or estimating the appropriate amounts, (ii) information used to determine emission factors and (iii) the values needed to combine emissions of different gases.

Auditor's Responsibilities

Our objectives are to plan and perform the review to obtain limited assurance about whether the Specified Sustainability Disclosures are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a review report that includes our conclusion. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence decisions of users taken on the basis of the Specified Sustainability Disclosures.

As part of a review in accordance with ASSA 5000, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the engagement. We also:

- Perform risk assessment procedures, including obtaining an understanding of internal controls relevant to the engagement to identify and assess the risks of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, at the disclosure level but not for the purpose of providing a conclusion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
- Design and perform procedures responsive to the assessed risks of material misstatement at the disclosure level.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

Summary of the Work Performed

A review is a limited assurance engagement and involves performing procedures to obtain evidence about the Specified Sustainability Disclosures. The nature, timing and extent of procedures selected depend on professional judgement, including the assessed risks of material misstatement at the disclosure level, whether due to fraud or error. In conducting our review, we:

- Enquired with management to understand the governance structures and reporting process;
- Enquired with management to understand the process for developing the climate governance, strategy and metrics disclosures;
- Obtained an understanding of relevant processes, information flow and related systems for key data sets;
- Reviewed internal documentation including policies, charters, minutes of meetings, risk management frameworks, and basis of preparation documents;
- Reviewed oOh!media Limited's process undertaken to identify climate-related risks and opportunities that could reasonably be expected to affect the entity's prospects;
- Assessed the suitability and application of the Criteria in respect of the Specified Sustainability Disclosures;
- For Scope 1 and 2 greenhouse gas emissions, tested underlying data to source documentation on a sample basis; and
- Reconciled the Specified Sustainability Disclosures to underlying information.

1. Energy and emissions reduction oOh! is committed to reducing operational impacts and progressing decarbonisation through energy reduction and more considered procurement. See page 97 for further detail on our emissions footprint.

Scope 1, Scope 2 and Scope 3 are categories used under the Greenhouse Gas (GHG) Protocol to classify where an organisation's energy use and emissions come from. They help companies measure, manage and reduce emissions across their value chain.

oOh!'s emissions reporting boundary is detailed further under Judgements and Measurement Uncertainties on page 83.

In 2025 oOh! reduced our Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions by 32% versus prior year (based on CY24 estimates).

Decarbonisation Initiatives in 2025 included:

Scope 1

Direct emissions

- Introduction of four electric vehicles into oOh!'s operational fleet representing 2% of oOh!'s entire fleet

Scope 2

Indirect emissions

- Australia-wide audit of thousands of unmetered assets to confirm consumption levels, enabling better tracking of our impact
- Entered an I-RECs (International Renewable Energy Certificates) procurement contract with Snowy Hydro for the purchase of certificates generated from renewable electricity - 15,250 oOh! advertising panels source renewable power either directly via solar, through the embedded networks of our commercial partners or via oOh! purchased certificates

Gender Pay Gap

We are proud of our longstanding commitment to driving gender equality and positive change for women as part of our DEI strategy and this includes a specific focus on gender pay equality. We focus on the drivers of the pay gap: leadership representation, recruitment and promotion pathways, and consistency in reward decisions.

oOh! reports annually to the Workplace Gender Equality Agency (WGEA) on key gender equality indicators. The gender pay gap is the difference in average or median earnings between women and men in the workforce and is a useful proxy for measuring and tracking gender equality across an organisation.

The below sets out oOh!'s gender pay gap for the Corporate Group:

Average total remuneration	1.0 %
Median total remuneration	-5.4%

Source: WGEA Corporate Group Executive Summary 2024-25. A positive percentage indicates men are paid more on average than women. A negative percentage indicates women are paid more on average than men.

WGEA's definition of a Corporate Group is a parent company and its subsidiaries, considered together as one employer if their combined headcount is 100 or more employees. This includes both oOh!media Operations Pty Limited and oOh!media Street Furniture Pty Limited.

WGEA's Total Remuneration definition includes base salary, superannuation, overtime, bonuses and other additional payments

Specific initiatives focused on women have been implemented in 2025 to ensure continued momentum, including:

- Appointment of a recruitment partner with key performance measures in the SLA regarding attracting, presenting and hiring diverse talent pools consistent with oOh!'s strategic DEI imperatives.
- Leadership development that includes core content around diversity, inclusion and belonging.
- As in prior years, we continue to undertake additional gender pay equity analysis for the Board, Talent & Culture Committee, and CEO annually, and continue to refine our approaches to promotion, performance reviews, and reward processes to eliminate bias.

The Annual Financial Report (consolidated financial statements) of the Company as at and for the year ended 31 December 2025 comprises the Company and its subsidiaries (together referred to as the Group, and individually as Group entities), and the Group's interests in associates and joint ventures. The comparative information represents the financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2024 and the Group's performance for the period 1 January 2024 to 31 December 2024.

The Group is a for-profit entity and is primarily involved in outdoor media, production and advertising in Australia and New Zealand.

2. Basis of accounting

a) Statement of compliance

The consolidated financial statements are general purpose financial statements which have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (AASBs) adopted by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) and the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth). The consolidated financial statements comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) adopted by the International Standards Board (IASB).

These consolidated financial statements were approved and authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on 16 February 2026.

b) Basis of measurement

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for the following item in the consolidated statement of financial position:

- Derivative and financial instruments are measured at fair value.

c) Functional and presentation currency

These consolidated financial statements are presented in Australian dollars, which is the Company's functional currency. The Company is of a kind referred to in ASIC Corporations Instrument 2016/191 dated 1 April 2016 and in accordance with the instrument, all financial information presented in Australian dollars has been rounded to the nearest thousand unless otherwise stated.

d) Going concern

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the continuity of normal business activities and realisation of assets and settlement of liabilities in the ordinary course of business. The Group has an excess of current liabilities over current assets totalling $74,814,000 principally due to current lease obligations stemming from the Group's significant lease portfolio. The Group forecasts continued positive operating cash flows and expects to meet its obligations as they fall due.

e) Use of judgements and estimates

In preparing these consolidated financial statements, management has made judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of the Group's accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised prospectively.

2. Basis of accounting (continued)

e) Use of judgements and estimates (continued)

i. Judgements

Key judgements include the forecast performance of the Group, which at the time of this report has inherent uncertainty. These key judgements relate to the carrying value of the tangible and intangible assets and were made based on the internal and external available information. Should actual performance differ significantly from these assumptions there may be material changes to the carrying value of the assets for future reporting periods. Assumptions with regards to the recoverability of goodwill allocated to Cash Generating Units are included in Note 14 Goodwill.

ii. Assumptions and estimation uncertainties

Information about assumptions and estimation uncertainties that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment within the year ending 31 December 2025 are included in the following notes:

- Note 14 Goodwill: Key assumptions underlying recoverable amounts for impairment testing; and
- Note 17 Loans and borrowings: Lease terms.

iii. Measurement of fair values

A number of the Group's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

The Group has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. This includes a finance team that has overall responsibility for overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values, and which reports directly to the Chief Financial Officer.

The finance team reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information, such as broker quotes or pricing services, is used to measure fair values, then the finance team assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that such valuations meet the requirements of IFRS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which such valuations should be classified. Significant valuation issues are reported to the Group's Audit, Risk & Compliance Committee.

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group uses observable market data as much as possible.

If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability might be categorised in different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Group recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred. Further information about the assumptions made in measuring fair values is included Note 23 Fair values.

f) Change in accounting policies

The accounting policies adopted in this report have been consistently applied to each entity in the Group and are consistent with those of the previous year.

2. Basis of accounting (continued)

g) New standards and interpretations

i. Accounting standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective

Standard/Interpretation	Effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after	Expected to be initially applied in the financial year ending
AASB 18 Presentation and disclosure in financial statements	1 January 2027	31 December 2027

AASB 18 replaces AASB 101 Presentation of Financial Statements. This standard introduces the following key new requirements:

- Entities are required to classify all income and expenses into five categories in the statement of profit or loss, namely the operating, investing, financing, discontinued operations and income tax categories. Entities are also required to present a newly defined operating profit subtotal. Entities' net profit will not change.
- Management-defined performance measures (MPMs) are disclosed in a single note in the financial statements.
- Enhanced guidance is provided on how to group information in the financial statements.

In addition, all entities are required to use the operating profit subtotal as the starting point for the statement of cash flows when presenting operating cash flows under the indirect method.

The Group is still in the process of assessing the impact of the new standard, particularly with respect to the structure of the Group's statement of profit or loss, the statement of cash flows and the additional disclosures required for MPMs. The Group is also assessing the impact on how information is grouped in the financial statements, including for items currently labelled as 'other'.

ii. Other accounting standards

The following new and amended accounting standards are not expected to have a significant impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements:

- Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments (Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7); and
- Contracts Referencing Nature-dependent Electricity (Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7).

2. Material accounting policies

Accounting policies can be found throughout the notes to these financial statements, beneath the appropriate note disclosure. For changes in the accounting policy in the period refer to Note 2(f) Changes in accounting policies.

a) Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the assets and liabilities of all subsidiaries of oOh!media Limited and the results of subsidiaries. oOh!media Limited and its subsidiaries together are referred to in these consolidated financial statements as 'the Group'.

i. Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.

ii. Investments in equity-accounted investees

The Group's interest in equity-accounted investees represents its interest in a joint venture. A joint venture is an arrangement in which the Group has joint control, whereby the Group has rights to the net assets of the arrangement, rather than rights to its assets and obligations for its liabilities. The Group's interest in associates and the joint venture are accounted for using the equity method. They are initially recognised at cost, which includes transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, the consolidated financial statements include the Group's share of profit or loss and other comprehensive income of equity-accounted investees, until the date on which significant influence or joint control ceases.

3. Material accounting policies (continued)

a) Basis of consolidation (continued)

iii. Transactions eliminated on consolidation

Intra-group balances and transactions, and any unrealised income and expenses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated. Unrealised gains arising from transactions with equity-accounted investees are eliminated against the investment to the extent of the Group's interest in that investee. Unrealised losses are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

iv. Non-controlling interests (NCI)

NCI are measured at their proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets at the date of acquisition. Changes in the Group's interest in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions.

b) Foreign currency translation - refer to Note 22 Capital and reserves

i. Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at period-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

ii. Foreign operations

The results and financial position of foreign operations (none of which have the currency of a hyperinflationary economy) that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- Assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that balance sheet;
- Income and expenses for each statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates unless this is not a reasonable approximation of the:
 - Cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the dates of the transactions;
 - All resulting exchange differences are recognised as a separate component of equity.

On consolidation, exchange differences arising from the translation of any net investment in foreign operations, and of borrowings and other financial instruments designated as hedges of such investments, are taken to shareholders' equity. When a foreign operation is sold, ceases operation or any borrowings forming part of the net investment are repaid, a proportionate share of such exchange differences are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income, as part of the gain or loss on sale where applicable. Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign operation are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the closing rate.

c) Goods and services tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. Operating cash flows are recognised inclusive of the associated GST. In this case, it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense. Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included with other receivables or payables in the balance sheet.

d) Glossary - refer to glossary of defined terms

Accounting policy: Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, net of the amount of goods and services tax. Revenue from core operating activities consists of Out of Home advertising revenues based on fixed price contracts. Revenue from Out of Home advertising is recognised equally on a pro rata basis over the period in which the advertising is on display. Revenue for media production work is recognised on completion of the assignment. Revenue is recognised on a gross basis with commissions payable to advertising and media agencies recognised as expenses in 'Cost of media sites and production'.

In accordance with AASB 15, the Group has applied the exemption not to disclose revenue from unfulfilled performance obligations, as performance obligations form part of a contract that has an original term of one year or less.

Contract balances

The timing of revenue recognition, invoicing, and cash collections results in accounts receivable, un-invoiced receivables (contract assets), and customer advances (contract liabilities) on the consolidated statement of financial position. Media contracts are all billed in accordance with agreed-upon contractual terms and pricing, either upfront, at periodic intervals (e.g. calendar period) or upon achievement of contractual milestones. These assets and liabilities are reported on the consolidated statement of financial position on a contract-by-contract basis at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the contract asset and liability balances were not materially impacted by any other factors during the year ended 31 December 2025.

Revenue recognised in 2025 that was included in the contract liabilities balance at the beginning of the year was $9,382,000 (2024: $6,323,000).

As at 31 December 2025, the Group had the following share-based payment arrangements:

a) Short term incentive plan (STIP)

The plan applies to the Executive leadership team and CEO, whereby 33% of each executive's annual STI outcome will be deferred in lieu of cash payment and converted into rights to receive oOh! Shares: specifically in 1-year Restricted Shares. Participants may voluntarily elect for the deferred portion to be subject to post-vesting disposal restrictions for up to 15 years from commencement of the annual performance period. The number of rights to be granted will be determined based on a 10-day volume weighted average price (VWAP) of a share following the release of the Group's annual financial results. All rights are redeemable on a one-for-one basis for oOh! shares, subject to the achievement of performance hurdles.

Measurement of fair values

The fair value of the share-based payment plan was measured based on the Monte Carlo and Binomial models. The inputs used in the measurement of the fair values at grant date were as follows:

Accounting policy: Employee benefits

i) Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid if the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

ii) Long service leave

The liability for long service leave is recognised in the provision for employee benefits and measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date using the projected unit credit method. Consideration is given to expected future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service.

Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at the reporting date on corporate bonds with terms to maturity and currency that match, as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows. Benefits falling more than 12 months after the end of the reporting period are classified as non-current.

iii) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are payable when employment is terminated before the normal retirement date, or when an employee accepts voluntary redundancy in exchange for these benefits. The Group recognises termination benefits when it is demonstrably committed to either terminating the employment of current employees according to a detailed formal plan without possibility of withdrawal or to providing termination benefits as a result of an offer made to encourage voluntary redundancy. Benefits falling due more than 12 months after the end of the reporting period are discounted to present value and classified as non-current.

iv) Defined contribution plans

Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are expensed as the related service is provided. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent a cash refund or reduction of future payments is available.

Employee benefits expense includes contributions to defined contribution plans of $11,134,000 for the current reporting period (2024: $10,202,000).

9. Income Tax (continued)

Accounting policy: Income tax

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination or items recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income (OCI).

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The amount of current tax payable or receivable is the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received. It is measured using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax also includes any tax arising from dividends. Current tax assets and liabilities are offset only if certain criteria are met.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised for temporary differences at the tax rates expected to apply when the assets are recovered, or liabilities are settled, based on those tax rates which are enacted or substantively enacted for each jurisdiction. The relevant tax rates are applied to the cumulative amounts of deductible and taxable temporary differences to measure the deferred tax asset or liability. Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised for temporary differences between the carrying amount and tax bases of investments in controlled entities where the parent entity is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

With regards to measuring deferred tax consequences on licences and brands, management considers the tax consequences of recovery through use and then disposal separately. Under this approach the tax base from use (nil as the licences and brands are not depreciable for tax) is considered separate from the tax base from disposal (capital gains tax value). This results in a taxable temporary difference (deferred tax liability) on revenue account and a deductible temporary difference (deferred tax asset) on capital account. As it is not currently probable that future capital gains will be made, the deferred tax asset has not been recognised.

Tax consolidation legislation

oOh!media Limited and its wholly owned Australian controlled subsidiaries apply the tax consolidation legislation.

The deferred tax balances recognised by the parent entity and the consolidated entity in relation to wholly owned entities joining the tax consolidated group are initially measured and remeasured based on the carrying amounts of the assets and liabilities of those entities at the level of the tax consolidated group and their tax values, as applicable under the tax consolidation legislation.

oOh!media Limited, as the head entity in the tax consolidated group, recognises current and deferred tax amounts relating to transactions, events and balances of the controlled entities in this group as if those transactions, events and balances were its own, in addition to the current and deferred tax amounts arising in relation to its own transactions, events and balances. Amounts receivable or payable under a tax funding agreement with the tax consolidated entities are recognised as tax-related amounts receivable or payable. Expenses and revenues arising under the tax funding agreement are recognised as a component of income tax (expense) / benefit.

In accordance with Urgent Issues Group Interpretation 1052 "Tax Consolidation Accounting", the controlled entities in the tax consolidated group account for their own deferred tax balances, except for those relating to tax losses.

Accounting policy: Trade receivables

Standard trade debtors are recognised at the amount receivable as they are due for settlement no more than 45 days from the date of recognition. Recoverability of trade receivables is reviewed on an ongoing basis. Debts which are known to be uncollectible are written off. A provision for doubtful receivables is calculated using an expected credit losses provision matrix. The provision matrix is based on the Group's historical observed default rates, adjusted for forward looking estimates. The historical observed default rates are updated to reflect current and forecast credit conditions on each reporting date. Provisions for specific receivables are recognised in addition to the general provision originating from the expected credit losses matrix.

The amount of the provision is recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position with a corresponding charge recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Accounting policy: Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the statement of comprehensive income during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Within the Group, depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis to write-off the cost of each item of plant and equipment over its estimated remaining useful life (less the estimated residual value). Estimates of remaining useful lives are made on a regular basis for all assets, with annual reassessments for major items. The expected useful lives are as follows:

- Leasehold improvements 2-10 years; and
- Plant and equipment 2-20 years.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amounts. These are included in the statement of comprehensive income.

Accounting policy: Maintenance and repairs

Certain plant and equipment are required to be overhauled on a regular basis. This is managed as part of an ongoing major cyclical maintenance program. The costs of this maintenance are charged as expenses as incurred, except where they relate to the replacement of a component of an asset, in which case the costs are capitalised and depreciated over their useful lives. Other routine operating maintenance, repair costs and minor renewals are charged as expenses as incurred.

As at 31 December	854,139	733,672

Based on the total number of active leases, 85% of right-of-use assets are property leases where the Company has site structures. The remainder are warehouses, offices, and miscellaneous leases.

Accounting policy: Right-of-use

The Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, and subsequently at cost less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability. The right-of-use assets are depreciated over the lease term using the straight-line method.

Lease modification is a change in the scope of a lease, or the consideration for a lease, that was not part of its original terms and conditions. Common lease modifications include, for example: increasing the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; decreasing the scope of the lease by removing the right to use one or more underlying assets or shortening the contractual lease term; increasing the scope of the lease by extending the contractual lease term; and changing the consideration in the lease by increasing or decreasing the lease payments. Changes that result from renegotiations and changes to the terms of the original contract are lease modifications.

When the right to use one or more underlying assets is removed, a corresponding adjustment is made to decrease the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset to reflect the lease. The Group shall then recognise in profit or loss (if any) relating to the termination of the lease and making corresponding adjustments to the lease liabilities.

Accounting policy: Intangible assets

i) Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase consideration over the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired. Goodwill acquired in business combinations is not amortised. Instead, goodwill is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently, if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it might be impaired and is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is allocated to cash generating units for impairment testing. During the year, an impairment of $25,021,000 (2024: nil) was recognised in the New Zealand CGU. Refer to Note 14 Goodwill for further information.

ii) Brands

Brands represent acquired business names, trade marks, trade names, domain names and logos. Brands are amortised over their expected useful life.

iii) Licences

Licences represent the rights and relationships associated with acquired site leases and the associated new business revenue streams. Licences are amortised over their expected useful life.

iv) Software

Software that is acquired by the Group and has a finite useful life is measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

v) Amortisation

Amortisation is calculated to write-off the cost of intangible assets less estimated residual values using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives and is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and comprehensive income. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

- Brands 2-15 years;
- Licences 11-15 years; and
- Software 3-7 years.

Amortisation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

14. Goodwill

Cash generating units (CGUs) for the purpose of goodwill impairment testing have been identified as follows for the year ended 31 December 2025: Australia, New Zealand and Cactus. The independence of cash inflows is assessed in identifying CGUs.

At the reporting date, the Group performed an assessment for indicators of impairment, taking into consideration the current and forecast changes in the size of the various markets and market shares that the CGUs operate in compared to those previously forecast, as well as its previous assumptions for long term growth and other operating environment changes.

Australia and Cactus CGUs

For the year ended 31 December 2025, the carrying value of assets allocated to Australia and Cactus is supported by their recoverable amount and no impairment loss was recorded.

The key assumptions of the impairment testing are:

- Annual revenue is based on latest management forecast of continued share gains from other media over the forecast period, resulting in normalised compound annual growth rates (CAGR) from 2026 to 2030 for Australia of 5.0% (2024: 4.8%) and 3.0% for Cactus (2024: 2.1%);
- EBITDA margins improving based on revenue growth assumptions, offset by lease renewal outcomes, and other cost increases in line with expected CPI;
- Terminal growth rate: Australia 3.0% and Cactus 2.0% (Unchanged from 2024);
- Discount rate post-tax: Australia 10.3% (2024: 10.3%), Cactus 11.2% (2024: 11.2%).

Sensitivity analysis undertaken on the assumptions mentioned above indicate that no reasonably possible change would result in an impairment.

New Zealand CGU

The key assumptions of the impairment testing are:

- Annual revenue is based on latest management forecast of continued share gains from other media over the forecast period, resulting in compound annual growth rates (CAGR) from 2026 to 2030 for NZ of 6.9% (2024: 4.8%⁽¹⁾).
- Discount rate post-tax: 3.0% (Unchanged from 2024);
- Discount rate post-tax: 11.0% (2024: 11.1%). The discount rate is based on 10-year government bonds issued by the New Zealand government and is in the same currency as the cash flow, adjusted for a risk premium to reflect both the increased risk of investing in equities and the systemic risk of the New Zealand CGU.
- Management expects to retain all key contracts throughout the forecast period.

⁽¹⁾ In 2024, a weighted scenario reflecting the uncertainty of Auckland Transport resulted in a negative CAGR of (2.1%).

In respect of scenarios within the New Zealand CGU:

- The base case scenario reflects the growth rates and assumptions outlined above. While recent revenue performance has been below prior forecasts, the base case assumes growth in the medium to longer term. On this basis, no impairment would arise for the New Zealand CGU. However, if revenue performance in the medium term does not reflect these assumptions, this would result in an impairment of goodwill. Based on current modelling, a reduction in forecast revenue of 5% would result in an impairment range of $2 million to $6 million.
- An unsuccessful outcome in respect of a tender representing 10%-15% of total revenue would result in an impairment of goodwill for the CGU of $6 million to $10 million, due to the reduction in forecast cash flows associated with the relevant contract not being secured. Management's current expectation is that all active tenders will be successful.
- A combination of the above two scenarios would result in an impairment between $12 million to $16 million.

Following the impairment expense recognised in the New Zealand CGU at 30 June 2025, the recoverable amount was equal to the carrying amount. Therefore, an adverse change in a key assumption may lead to further impairment.

Reconciliation of carrying amount of goodwill:

	Australia $'000	New Zealand $'000	Cactus $'000	Total $'000

14. Goodwill (continued)

Accounting policy: Impairment of assets

Non-financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its non-financial assets to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. Goodwill is tested annually for impairment.

For impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs. Goodwill arising from a business combination is allocated to CGUs or groups of CGUs that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination.

The recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. Value in use is based on the estimated future cash flows, discounted to their present value using a post-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or CGU.

An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount.

Impairment losses are recognised in profit or loss. They are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets in the CGU on a pro rata basis.

An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not reversed. For other assets, an impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

The carrying value of assets allocated to each CGU is supported by their recoverable amount.

Secured bank loans

Bank loans represent debt facilities from a syndicate of lending banks, with a facility limit of $265,000,000. The banking syndicate has security over all assets of the Company and its subsidiaries. The debt facilities expire in June 2030.

During the period, the Group successfully completed a restructure of its debt facilities, extending maturity to 30 June 2030. Transaction costs incurred as part of the restructure have been capitalised and will be amortised over the life of the facility.

The Group has two secured bank loans that are subject to covenants which will need to be complied with within 12 months of the reporting date.

i) Debt facility A1

During the year, the Group had a secured bank loan with a carrying amount of $121,000,000 (2024: $129,000,000). The loan is a rolling facility and contains covenants requiring that, at each reporting date, the leverage ratio does not exceed 1.20 and the fixed charge cover ratio remains below 3.25. A breach of these covenants would result in the loan becoming repayable on demand.

The Group complied with all covenants as at 31 December 2025. Based on forecasts and current operating conditions, the Group expects to continue to comply with the covenants for the 12 months following the reporting date. Accordingly, the loan is classified as non-current at 31 December 2025.

ii) Debt Facility A2

During the year, the Group had a secured bank loan with a carrying amount of $12,000 (2024: nil). The loan is a rolling facility and contains covenants requiring that, at each reporting date, the leverage ratio does not exceed 1.20 and the fixed charge cover ratio remain below 3.25. A breach of these covenants would result in the loan becoming repayable on demand.

The Group complied with all covenants as at 31 December 2025. Based on forecasts and current operating conditions, the Group expects to continue to comply with the covenants for the 12 months following the reporting date. Accordingly, the loan is classified as non-current at 31 December 2025.

Information about the Group's exposure to interest rate, foreign currency and liquidity risks is included in Note 24 Financial risk management.

Accounting Policy: Borrowings

Borrowings are initially recognised at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption amount is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method. Fees paid on the establishment of loan facilities are recognised as transaction costs of the loan to the extent that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down. In this case, the fee is deferred until the draw down occurs. To the extent there is no evidence that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down, the fee is capitalised as a prepayment for liquidity services and amortised over the period of the facility to which it relates.

Borrowings are derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability that has been extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss as other income or finance costs.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

As at 31 December	936,168	828,882

Accounting policy: Right-of-use assets and interest bearing lease liabilities

The Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments at the commencement date, discounted using the Group's incremental borrowing rate. The lease liability is subsequently increased by the interest cost on the lease liability (recognised in Finance costs on the income statement) and decreased by lease payments made.

Lease modification is a change in the scope of a lease, or the consideration for a lease, that was not part of its original terms and conditions. Common lease modifications include, for example: increasing the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; decreasing the scope of the lease by removing the right to use one or more underlying assets or shortening the contractual lease term; increasing the scope of the lease by extending the contractual lease term; and changing the consideration in the lease by increasing or decreasing the lease payments. Changes that result from renegotiations and changes to the terms of the original contract are lease modifications. Changes in the assessment of whether an extension option is reasonably certain to be exercised is a lease modification and the Group has applied judgement to determine whether it is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option.

When the right to use one or more underlying assets is removed, a corresponding adjustment is made to decrease the carrying amount of the lease liabilities to reflect the lease modification. The Group shall then recognise in profit or loss (if any) relating to the termination of the lease and making corresponding adjustments to the right-of-use asset.

Accounting policy: Make good provisions

Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as a finance cost.

A make good provision is recognised for the costs of restoration or removal in relation to plant and equipment and site leases where there is a legal or constructive obligation. The provision is initially recorded when a reliable estimate can be determined and discounted to present value. The unwinding of the effect of discounting on the provision is recognised as a finance cost. At the time of initial recognition of the make good provision, a corresponding asset is recognised as part of plant and equipment. During subsequent remeasurement, any reassessment to the make good provision is adjusted to plant, property and equipment.

The transaction was accounted for as a common control transaction as disclosed in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2014. The other equity reserve reflects the share price movements for former OMI owners who remained as oOh!media Limited (OML) owners.

Cash flow hedge reserve - The hedging reserve comprises the effective portion of the cumulative net change in the fair value of hedging instruments used in cash flow hedges pending subsequent recognition in profit or loss as the hedged cash flows affect profit or loss. Refer to Note 23 Fair values.

e) Capital management policy

The Board's policy is to retain a strong capital base relative to normal trading conditions including media advertising industry cycles to maintain investor and creditor confidence and to sustain future development of the business. Capital consists of share capital, retained earnings and the non-controlling interest of the Group.

The Board seeks to maintain a balance between the higher returns that might be possible with higher levels of borrowings and the advantages and security afforded by a strong capital position.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares are recognised as a deduction from equity. Income tax relating to transaction costs of an equity transaction are accounted for in accordance with AASB 112 Income Taxes.

23. Fair values

Accounting classifications and fair values

a) Fair values vs carrying amounts

The fair values of financial assets and liabilities equals the carrying amounts shown in the statement of financial position. The fair value of interest rate derivatives is determined as the present value of future contracted cash flows and credit adjustments.

b) Interest rates used for determining fair value

The interest rates used to discount estimated cash flows, where applicable, are based on the government yield curve at the end of the reporting period plus an appropriate credit spread, and were as follows:

	31 Dec 25	31 Dec 24
Interest rate derivatives	2.8% - 3.5%	1.8% - 2.8%
Bank loan interest calculated as BBSY + margin	5.3% - 6.7%	6.6% - 6.7%
Leases	2.0% - 9.8%	1.8% - 9.8%

c) Fair values hierarchy

Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The table below analyses financial instruments carried at fair value, by the levels in the fair value hierarchy. The different levels have been defined as above. It does not include fair value information for financial assets and financial liabilities not measured at fair value if the carrying amount is a reasonable approximation of fair value.

During the year, the Group recognised $2,757,000 (2024: nil) investments in ScaleUp MediaFund 3.0 Trust as financial asset at fair value through profit and loss. The investment is revalued at each reporting period under Board approved risk framework and policies. Level 1 and level 3 inputs used to value ScaleUp Media Fund 3.0 Trust as the portfolio consists of a combination of ASX listed price and specific information from the trustees such as pending transactions and capital raises.

Other financial assets	-	-	-	-
Total financial assets measured at fair value	1,667	-	1,667	-

d) Valuation techniques

The Group has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. This includes a finance team that has overall responsibility for overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values, and which reports to the Chief Financial Officer. The valuation function regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments and any significant valuation issues are reported to the Audit, Risk & Compliance Committee.

The fair value of Level 2 interest rate derivatives is determined as the present value of future contracted cash flows and credit adjustments. Cash flows are discounted using standard valuation techniques at the applicable market yield, having regard to the timing of the cash flows.

Level 3 assets comprises of unlisted investments, valued using unobservable inputs, including cash flow projections, pending transactions and capital raisings. An increase or decrease to the inputs results in an increase or decrease to the net profit of the Group.

24. Financial risk management

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management program focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Group. The Group uses derivative financial instruments such as interest rate swaps to hedge certain risk exposures. Derivatives are exclusively used for hedging purposes, i.e. not as trading or other speculative instruments. The Group uses different methods which are in-line with Board approved policies to measure different types of risk to which it is exposed. These methods include sensitivity analysis in the case of interest rates, foreign exchange and other price risks and aging analysis for credit risk.

a) Credit risk

Credit risk is the financial loss to the Group if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations and arises principally from the Group's receivables from customers.

i) Management of credit risk

Credit risk is managed on a Group basis. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, derivative financial instruments and deposits with banks, as well as credit exposures to agency and direct clients, including outstanding receivables and committed transactions. The interest rate derivative financial instruments are contracted with credit worthy counterparties that are large banks, primarily members of the Group's syndicated debt facility.

The Group has no significant concentrations of credit risk because the advertising agencies carry the majority of customer default risk. The Group has policies in place to ensure that sales of media and services are made to customers with appropriate credit histories based on enquires through the Group's credit department. Ongoing customer credit performance is monitored on a regular basis.

Under the Company's leasing arrangements financial guarantees are given to certain parties. Such guarantees are provided under the Group's banking facilities.

ii) Cash and cash equivalents

The Group held cash and cash equivalents of $18,257,000 at 31 December 2025 (31 December 2024: $19,787,000). The cash and cash equivalents are held with credit worthy counterparties that are large banks, primarily members of the Group's syndicated debt facility.

iii) Derivatives

Interest rate derivatives are subject to credit risk in relation to the relevant counterparties, which are large banks and members of the Group's syndicated debt facility. The credit risk on derivative contracts is limited to the net amount to be received from counterparties on contracts that are favourable to the consolidated entity.

iv) Exposure to credit risk

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date was:

	31 Dec 25 $'000	31 Dec 24 $'000
Cash and cash equivalents	18,257	19,787
Trade and other receivables	120,754	122,686

Total financial assets	166,102	167,163

24. Financial risk management (continued)

v) Receivables

The aging of trade receivables at the end of the reporting date that were not impaired was as follows:

	31 Dec 25 $'000	31 Dec 24 $'000
Neither past due nor impaired	114,125	113,087
Past due 0-30 days	3,278	4,493
Past due 31-60 days	1,108	2,069
Past due 61-90 days	350	1,538
Past due 91+ days	1,893	1,499
Trade and other receivables	120,754	122,686

The movement in the allowance for impairment in respect of trade receivables during the year was as follows:

	31 Dec 25 $'000	31 Dec 24 $'000
Balance at 1 January	1,039	709
Impairment loss recognised	(134)	484
Amounts written off	(13)	(154)
Balance at 31 December	892	1,039

Other than those receivables specifically considered in the above allowance for impairment, the Group does not believe there is a material credit quality issue with the remaining trade receivables balance.

b) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. The Group's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure that, as far as possible, it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Group's reputation.

i) Management of liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and the availability of funding through an adequate amount of committed credit facilities and the ability to close out market positions. The Group manages liquidity risk by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows and matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

ii) Financing arrangements

The Group had access to the following undrawn borrowing facilities at the end of the reporting date:

	31 Dec 25 $'000	31 Dec 24 $'000
Facility ⁽¹⁾	265,000	350,000
Less: Bank debt	132,500	129,000
Less: Bank guarantees	54,257	52,536
Undrawn revolving facility	78,243	168,464

⁽¹⁾ During the period, the Group successfully completed a restructure of its debt facilities, extending maturity to 30 June 2030.

iii) Maturities of financial liabilities

The table below analyses the Group's financial liabilities, net and gross settled derivative financial instruments in relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the reporting date to the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows. For interest rate derivatives, the cash flows have been estimated using forward interest rates applicable at the reporting date.

The contractual cashflows for the bank debt includes commitment fees for undrawn debt and fees for active bank guarantees. The Group's banking facilities loan agreement includes a change of control clause that triggers a review in the event of a change of control. The banking syndicate could cancel the facility as a result of such review. As at 31 December 2025 balance date, no change of control event is anticipated and therefore the bank debt is assessed as non-current in line with the existing maturity dates of the facility.

As disclosed in Note 17, The Group's secured bank debt are subject to various covenants. A future breach of any of these covenants may require the Group to repay the related loan earlier than indicated in the above table.

c) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates and equity prices will affect the Group's income or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control market risk exposures within acceptable parameters, while optimising the return.

i) Price risk

Price risk refers to the risk of a decline in the value of security or a portfolio. The Group is not exposed to significant price risk, with the exception of the Group's investment in ScaleUp MediaFund Trust 3.0. Refer to Note 23(c) Fair values hierarchy.

ii) Management of currency risk

The Group operates in New Zealand and therefore is exposed to foreign exchange transaction risks with respect to the New Zealand dollar. Foreign exchange transaction risk arises when future commercial transactions and recognised assets and liabilities are denominated in a currency that is not the entity's functional currency and through net investments in foreign operations. The risk is measured using cash flow forecasting. The Group has an accounting exposure to movements in the AUD/NZD exchange rate in consolidating the NZD net assets of oOh!media Street Furniture New Zealand, and its subsidiaries at each balance date. Any such movements are booked to the Group's foreign currency translation reserve (FCTR).

Based on the exposure, the Group has not deemed it necessary to hedge this exposure in the period or the prior period.

iii) Interest rate risk

The Group's main interest rate risk arises from long-term borrowings. Borrowings issued at variable interest rates expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk. Borrowings issued at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk.

The Group's interest rate policy is to fix estimated interest rate risk exposure at a minimum of 50% for a period of at least 12 months or as otherwise determined by the Board.

The Group manages its cash flow interest rate risk by using floating to fixed interest rate derivatives. Such interest rate derivatives have the economic effect of converting borrowings from floating rates to fixed rates. Generally, the Group raises long-term borrowings at floating rates and hedges them into fixed rates using a mixture of swaps and options. Under the interest rate derivatives, the Group agrees with other parties to exchange, monthly or quarterly, the difference between fixed contract rates and floating rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed notional principal amounts.

At the reporting date the interest rate profile of the Group's interest-bearing financial instruments as reported to the management of the Group was as follows:

	31 Dec 25 $'000	31 Dec 24 $'000
Fixed rate instruments
Financial liabilities ⁽¹⁾	936,168	828,882
Variable rate instruments
Financial assets ⁽²⁾	18,257	19,787
Financial liabilities ⁽³⁾	132,500	129,000

⁽¹⁾ Fixed rate instruments are leases.

⁽²⁾ Financial assets are cash.

⁽³⁾ Financial liabilities are borrowings.

iii) Interest rate risk (continued)

Cash flow hedges

The amounts at the reporting date relating to items designated as hedged items were as follows:

	Change in value used for calculating hedge ineffectiveness
	31 Dec 25	31 Dec 24
	$'000	$'000
Interest rate risk
Variable rate instruments	1,356	(1,821)

See also Note 23 Fair values where we have stated the designated portion of the derivative and see contractual cash flows on profile and timing of interest rate derivatives.

In accordance with AASB 9 Financial Instruments, the interest rate derivatives have been assessed for hedge effectiveness as at 31 December 2025. Based on management's expectations at the reporting date, no rebalancing of the hedging instrument was required during the period. The derivatives continue to be designated as cash flow hedges and remain highly effective, with no hedge ineffectiveness recognised as at the reporting date.

The amounts relating to items designated as hedging instruments and hedge ineffectiveness are as follows:

	31 Dec 25			During the period - 2025
	Carrying amount			Changes in the value of the hedging instrument recognised in OCI	Hedge ineffectiveness recognised in profit and loss
	Nominal amount $'000	Assets $'000	Liabilities $'000	$'000	$'000
Interest rate derivatives	100,000	3,023	-	(1,672)	(10)

iv) Cash flow sensitivity analysis for variable rate instruments

A change of 100 basis points in interest rates at the reporting date would have increased / (decreased) equity and profit or loss by the amounts shown below. This analysis assumes that all other variables and foreign currency rates remain constant. The analysis was performed on the same basis as 2024.

Accounting policy: Financial instruments

a) Initial recognition and measurement

Trade receivables and debt securities are initially recognised when they are originated. Other financial assets/liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Trade receivables are initially measured at the transaction price. Financial assets / liabilities are initially measured at fair value (together with any transaction costs which are directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset, or cost of the liability).

Classification and subsequent remeasurement

Three principal classification categories for financial assets exist:

- i) measured through amortised cost;
- ii) fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI); and
- iii) fair value to the consolidated statement of profit or loss (FVTPL).

Financial assets are classified according to the business model in which the asset is managed and according to its contractual cash flow characteristics. They will not subsequently be reclassified unless the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets. If the business model changes, all financial assets would be reclassified on the first day of the reporting period after which the change took place.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows and contractual terms give rise to cash flows of principal and interest on specific dates. When assessing whether cash flows represent solely principal and interest, the Group considers factors which may affect the timing and amount of the cash flows, such as contingent events, contractual terms and prepayment or extensions features.

All derivative financial assets are measured as FVTPL. At inception, the Group may also irrevocably designate that a financial asset be measured as FVTPL, even though it would otherwise be measured as amortised cost or FVOCI, if such an election eliminates (or significantly reduces) an accounting mismatch which would otherwise occur.

Subsequent remeasurement of	Remeasured at	Gains / Losses	Other considerations
Financial assets at FVTPL	Fair value	Profit or loss	Does not apply to hedging instruments (refer to (d) below)
Financial assets at amortised cost	Amortised cost using the effective interest method	Profit or loss	Amortised cost is reduced by any impairment losses
Financial liabilities at FVTPL	Fair value	Profit or loss	Does not apply to hedging instruments (refer to (d) below)
Financial liabilities at amortised cost	Amortised cost using the effective interest method	Profit or loss	-

24. Financial risk management (continued)

b) Derecognition

Financial assets

The Group will de-recognise a financial asset when any of the following occur:

- expiration of the contractual right to receive cash flow from the asset; or
- a transaction occurs which results in the Group transferring substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset and therefore it also transfers the right to receive cash flows from the asset; or
- although the Group does not transfer the risks and rewards of ownership, it no longer retains control of the asset.

Financial liabilities

The Group will derecognise a financial liability when any of the following occur:

- contractual obligations are discharged, cancelled or expire; or
- the terms are modified, such that the cash flows are also modified. In this situation, a new financial liability would be recognised, at fair value, based on the modified terms.

c) Offsetting

The Group may only offset financial assets and liabilities (or present them on a net basis) in circumstances where there is a legally enforceable right to do so and the Group intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis, or simultaneously.

d) Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Group holds derivative financial instruments to hedge its interest rate risk exposure. Derivatives are initially measured at fair value. Subsequent changes in fair value are recognised in OCI.

The Group designates certain instruments as cash flow hedges to minimise the variability in cash flows associated with highly probable forecast transactions arising from changes in interest rates.

The risk management objective and strategy for undertaking a hedge, are documented at the inception of the hedging relationship. The Group also documents the economic relationship between the hedged item and the hedging instrument (including whether the changes in cash flows of the hedged item and hedging instrument are expected to offset).

The accounting policy for cash flow hedges is as follows:

- When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognised in OCI and accumulated in the hedging reserve. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognised immediately in profit or loss.
- The amount accumulated in equity is retained in OCI and reclassified to profit or loss in the same period or periods during which the hedged item affects profit or loss.

If the hedging instrument no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, or the designation is revoked, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, then the amount accumulated in equity is reclassified to profit or loss.

In our opinion, the accompanying Financial Report of the Company gives a true and fair view, including of the Group's financial position as at 31 December 2025 and of its financial performance for the year then ended, in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, in compliance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

The Financial Report comprises:

- Consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, Consolidated statement of changes in equity, and Consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended
- Consolidated entity disclosure statement and accompanying basis of preparation as at 31 December 2025
- Notes, including material accounting policies

The Group consists of the Company and the entities it controlled at the year end or from time to time during the financial year.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the Financial Report section of our report.

We are independent of the Group in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) issued by the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board Limited (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the Financial Report in Australia. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

Key Audit Matters

The Key Audit Matters we identified are:

- Lease accounting
- Recoverable amount of goodwill

Key Audit Matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the Financial Report of the current period.

These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the Financial Report as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Lease accounting

Refer to Notes 12 and 17 to the Financial Report

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The accounting requirements of AASB 16 Leases are inherently complex, where specific and individualised lease-features drive different accounting outcomes, increasing the need for interpretation and judgement. This increases our audit effort and is a key audit matter. We focused on: • High volume of leases – the Group has a high volume of individualised lease agreements required to be assessed in determining the lease liability and right-of-use asset. A focus for us was the accuracy of multiple and varied inputs which may drive different accounting outcomes, including key terms of the lease agreements, such as key dates, fixed rent payments, renewal options and incentives. • Complex modelling process – the Group developed a lease calculation model, which is largely manual and complex, and therefore is at greater risk for potential error and inconsistent application. • Relative magnitude – the size of balances has a significant financial impact on the Group's financial position and performance. The most significant areas of judgement we focused on were in assessing the Group's: • Incremental borrowing rates used – these reflect the Group's entity specific credit risk and vary based on each lease term. Incremental borrowing rates have been determined internally using the same	Our procedures included: • We considered the appropriateness of the Group's accounting policies against the requirements of the accounting standard and our understanding of the business and industry practice. • We obtained an understanding of the Group's processes used to calculate the lease liability, right-of-use asset, depreciation and interest expense. • We compared the Group's inputs in the lease calculation model, such as, key dates, fixed rent payments, renewal options and incentives, for consistency to the relevant terms of a sample of underlying signed lease agreements. • We assessed the Group's estimate of whether it is reasonably certain to exercise lease renewal options. We compared key management judgement for consistency to board approved plans, strategies and past practices. • We checked key inputs into the incremental borrowing rate to published authoritative sources. • Working with our modelling specialists, we assessed the integrity of the Group's lease calculation model used, including the accuracy of the underlying calculation formulas. We assessed the disclosures in the financial report using our understanding obtained from our testing and against the requirements of the accounting method as previously engaged external experts. Lease terms where leases have renewal options – assessing the Group’s judgement of whether it is reasonably certain renewal options will be exercised impacts the measurement of the lease, therefore is important to the accuracy of the accounting. We involved our senior audit team members in assessing these areas.	standard.

Recoverable amount of goodwill ($582million)

Refer to Notes 13 and 14 to the Financial Report

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The Group’s annual testing of goodwill for impairment is a key audit matter, given the size of the balance (being 31% of total assets) and the degree of judgement applied by the Group. We focused on the significant forward-looking assumptions the Group applied in its discounted cash flow models (“DCF models”) for New Zealand, including: - Forecast cash flows – there is inherent uncertainty around future cash flows, including revenue growth rates and cost assumptions, due to the short term, non-recurring nature of customer contracts, as well as continued uncertainty due to volatile macroeconomic conditions affecting the Group’s customers. Heightened risk exists in the New Zealand forecast cash flows estimated by management including the assumption of retention of all key contracts, which increase the risk of goodwill being impaired. - Forecast compound annual growth rates (CAGR), including terminal growth rates – in addition to the uncertainties described above, the Group’s DCF models for New Zealand are sensitive to small changes in these assumptions, reducing available headroom. The Group uses complex DCF models to perform their annual testing of goodwill for impairment. The DCF models are largely manually developed, use adjusted historical	Our procedures included: - We considered the appropriateness of the DCF method applied by the Group to perform the annual test of goodwill for impairment against the requirements of the accounting standards. - We assessed the integrity of the DCF models used, including the accuracy of the underlying calculation formulas. - We compared the forecast cash flows contained in the DCF models to Board approved forecasts. - We assessed the accuracy of previous Group forecasts to inform our evaluation of forecasts incorporated in the models. - We considered the Group’s determination of their CGUs based on our understanding of the operations of the Group’s business against the requirements of the accounting standards. - We considered the sensitivity of the DCF models by varying assumptions, such as forecast revenue CAGR, gross margins, terminal growth rates and discount rates, within a reasonably possible range. For New Zealand specifically, we assessed two scenario analyses: one involving reduced forecast revenue and the other an unsuccessful tender outcome. We did this to identify any CGU at higher risk of impairment and those key assumptions at performance, and a range of internal and external sources as inputs to the assumptions. Complex modelling, using forward-looking assumptions tend to be prone to greater risk for potential bias, error and inconsistent application. These conditions necessitate additional scrutiny by us, in particular to address the objectivity of sources used for assumptions, and their consistent application. In addition to the above, the carrying amount of the net assets of the Group exceeded the Group's market capitalisation at year end, increasing the possibility of goodwill being impaired. This further increased our audit effort in this key audit area.	a higher risk of bias or inconsistency in application and to focus our further procedures. • We compared key events to the Board-approved plan and strategy. We compared forecast revenue CAGR and terminal growth rates to published studies of industry trends and expectations of forecast advertising spend and considered differences for the Group's operations. We challenged the Group's New Zealand DCF model, specifically, the forecast cash flows, including revenue and cost assumptions, retention of all key contracts and associated rental assumptions. We used our knowledge of the Group, their past performance, business and customers, recent contract tenders, and our industry experience. • We assessed the Group's reconciliation of differences between the year-end market capitalisation and the carrying amount of the net assets. We assessed the disclosures in the financial report using our understanding obtained from our testing against the requirements of the accounting standards.
